Marines Guard Americans in Dominican Area

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another 100 U.S. Marines were landed in the strife-torn Dominican Republic today to protect Americans, as bloody fighting engulfed Santo Domingo.

None of the some 2,000 U.S. citizens remaining in the Caribbean country have been harmed, according to the latest reports reaching Washington. Evacuation was proceeding by helicopter and ship.

President Johnson ordered the Marines ashore from a naval force late Wednesday, after getting word of the breakdown of local governmental authority in the Caribbean country. The Dominicans were unable to guarantee safety for the American emergency radio-TV appearance.

About 400 Leathernecks landed by helicopter on the outskirts of Santo Domingo, under Johnson's order.

Another 100 from a U.S. naval force were landed early this morning.

There has been no exchange of fire between the American Marines and Dominican factions, the U.S. officials added.

As of the latest count, 215 Americans had been evacuated since the Marines landed. Another 1,100 Americans were evacuated Tuesday.

In Washington, the Council of the Organization of American States (OAS) was summoned into emergency session, at U.S. request, to get a report on the action and to consider possible peace making efforts to end the bloody civil war.

U.S. officials said the United States was taking no sides in the political turmoil engulfing the republic. They said the Marines will serve no cause except to protect Americans and will stay there until their mission is completed.

Johnson's order marked the first use of Marines in Latin America in years. U.S. officials expected criticism from Latin Americans mindful of American "gunboat diplomacy" of a bygone era. But under international law, they said, a nation can send its forces to another land to protect its national interests when the local government breaks down.

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Armed civilians threw up street barricades in Santo Domingo during the night in anticipation of fresh assaults from military forces opposing the return to power of deposed President Juan Bosch.

Pro-Bosch army rebels and the civilians appeared to be in control of the Dominican Republic's capital following the retreat of anti-Bosch tank forces which had pushed 300 yards into the city on Tuesday.

Brig. Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin and his anti-Bosch forces were still in control of the powerful San Isidro Air Base and military center 20 miles outside the city. Wessin set up a three-man military junta to govern the country and claimed his forces were victorious.

The capital spent a relatively quiet night after another day of fighting and threats by Wessin to bomb and strafe the city. Many residents fled from the capital.

Sporadic gunfire and machine-gun bursts were heard from the outskirts during the night, but there was no fighting in the city. Squads of infantry and armed civilians patrolled the nearly deserted streets.

P51 Mustangs under Wessin's command flew over the city during the day and strafed ammunition depots in the northern suburbs.

Wessin's Radio San Isidro broadcast an announcement that Bosch had made an agreement to accept the three-man junta and had abandoned all claim to the presidency. The announcement said the junta had agreed to ask the Organization of American States to oversee elections at an unspecified date.

The announcement was attributed to Antonio Martinez, secretary of Bosch's Dominican Revolutionary party. But unconfirmed reports in Santo Domingo said Bosch, in exile in San Juan, had rejected the agreement and stated that Martinez had no authority to make such a pact.

But F. M. Williams, engineer of tests for the Highway Department, said only 200 attended and that the purpose "was just to let some Highway Department workers know that they can vote on the bond issue without it being considered partisan action."

A $290 million capital improvements bond issue is among four issues being plugged by the administration of GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Coleman made his charge Wednesday at a news conference. He said 300 employees attended what he called a last-minute Republican strategy meeting.

Record Mississippi Flood Rips Dikes, Spreads Havoc

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The churning Mississippi River swirled through the Quincy area in west-central Illinois today, while 140 miles upriver weakened dikes were battered in the Quad Cities of Iowa and Illinois.

The record flood burst dikes and spread debris-littered water over thousands of acres from Dubuque, Iowa, to Hannibal, Mo.

Floodwaters rolled over more than 5,600 acres of farm land south of Quincy, but most of the city of 45,000 residents is situated on bluffs and is safe.

More than 15 square blocks of the business district were inundated in Hannibal, a city of 20,000.

The river burst a levee in the South Quincy drainage district, and engulfed more than 5,600 acres. Some 150 persons were evacuated.

Illinois 57 south of Quincy was closed and most rail traffic was stopped. Highway 36 and the Mark Twain Bridge were in danger of being closed.

Two National Guardsmen on the South Quincy levee when it broke were rescued by boats.

About 24 miles south of Quincy, the 560 residents of Hull, Ill., were ready to leave. Officials said the levees protecting the town would not hold.

In Hannibal, 23 families were evacuated from low areas as the river reached its highest level in history. Hannibal has no levee.

Civil Defense workers used a boat to patrol against looting in the flooded Hannibal business district. The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted a 25 1/2-foot crest Sunday.

Upriver, the crested Mississippi surged against soggy dikes in the Quad Cities of Moline, Rock Island and East Moline, Ill., and Davenport, Iowa. The area has a population of more than 270,000.

The Mississippi crested at 22.4 feet in Rock Island Wednesday, more than 7 feet above flood stage.

Thousands of volunteers continued an around-the-clock sandbagging job.

"This is the time you can get killed during a flood," one U.S. Corps of Engineers official said. "They're all out there piling sandbags while the river's rising, but the moment it starts to drop a tenth of a foot or two, they want to go home."

"And these dikes, the longer they're up, the soggier they get. They can go just like that. You don't even know what happened."

Second - ranking Bethlehem Steel Corp. enjoyed its best period since the fourth quarter of 1961. It earned $44,132,000, or 97 cents a share, against $28,505,000, or 59 cents a share, a year earlier. Sales jumped to $680,842,000 from $506,593,000. Steel shipments of 5,704, tons were the highest for any quarter.

Republic Steel Corp., No. 3 producer, had profits totaling $23,276,168 or $1.48 a share, compared with $15,772,262, or $1 a share, in the 1964 first quarter. Sales increased to $373,317,433 from $288,421,898.

Butler Countain, 36, indicted in abduction

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Raymond Ross Holt, 36, has been bound over to the Butler County Grand Jury on the charge of abducting a seven-year-old girl for immoral purposes.

Municipal Judge James A. Dolan ordered Holt, of nearby West Chester, held in lieu of $3,000 bond after the preliminary hearing that ended Wednesday.

Holt, who denies any knowledge about the assault March 25, also has been charged with rape. He was arrested April 6 in the Folsom State Prison, came to the attention of Sheriff L. P. Orr. Fingerprints established the wanted man's identity.

Fleming's wife, Lee Anne, fainted when Orr told her about her husband whom she met in West Virginia.

When she recovered she said, "A change in name doesn't change a person." Mrs. Fleming, mother of two daughters — three and six years old — by a previous marriage, said the girls "dearly love him. That's the man I know."

Fleming marveled at what has become a story-like battle to keep him from returning to Folsom, where he was serving a sentence of one year-to-life for robbery. He had been in prison for 30 months.

After his true identity was disclosed, 100 Chandler residents signed a petition attesting to his good character and asked clemency from California authorities.

Now he awaits Oklahoma Gov. Henry Bellmon's action on California's request that he be returned.

"I know that legally I've got no hope," Fleming said. "I hope Gov. Bellmon will give me a break. I put him on a spot, I know."

"I don't want to go back. A man lives on hope."

Major Quake Jolts Pacific Northwest

Police Probe Burglary at Grade School

South Court Loot Estimated at $1530; Chicken Taken, Too

Circleville Police today are investigating a burglary last night at the S. Court St. School apparently committed by some hungry thieves.

Sgt. Turney Ross said the burglars took almost everything of value in the building, "including a tray of chicken". Value of missing articles was estimated at $1,530 by Virgil Cress, school business manager.

Police are not sure how many intruders were involved. But they feel sure that there was more than one.

All rooms, desks and filing cabinets in the building were ransacked.

Articles missing included a television set, a movie projector, two tape recorders, four record players, a radio, two film strip machines and a clarinet. Cooks at the school said a tray of chicken was apparently missing as well as some milk.

Police said a window on the southwest corner of the building was broken. They considered it the most likely means of entry.

Although the burglars did a thorough job of looking for articles of value, they did little damage other than to the window, officers said.

A number of cigarette butts were found on the floors of the building. This indicated the intruders spent considerable time in the building, police said.

Patrolman William Brungs is assisting Sgt. Ross with the investigation.

Four-Month Steel Peace Is Assured

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A four-month labor peace pact guaranteed today a continued flow of steel for the nation's booming economy.

"It's all signed, sealed and delivered," said David J. McDonald, United Steelworkers president.

He and R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator for the basic steel industry, signed the temporary truce exchanging postponement of Saturday's scheduled strike for an 11.5-cent hourly pay hike.

Both emphasized a complete contract remains to be negotiated. Either side can serve 30-day notice Aug. 1 to end the agreement, bringing on another steel strike threat Sept. 1.

With at least temporary labor peace assured, attention turned to Friday's scheduled announcement of the results of the union's presidential election — a major factor complicating the steel industry negotiations.

I.W. Abel, now secretary-treasurer, is expected to be the winner, ending McDonald's 12-year reign over the million-member union.

McDonald reportedly plans to challenge the expected result, asking the union's 33-man executive board to overturn it. He also may ask the U.S. Labor Department to investigate and seek a court order for a new election.

Appalachian Highway Fund Undetermined

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio will get some Appalachia funds for highway work this year but the amount hasn't been determined.

That opinion came Wednesday from John L. Sweeney, co-chairman of the Appalachia Regional Commission. He spoke to a meeting of the Southeast Ohio Regional Council and a gathering assembled by U. S. Rep. Walter Moeller.

Mourning Ape Shuns Romance

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Annie, a rhesus monkey whose mate died in the flooded zoo at Mankato, Minn., recently, shows little inclination to get married again.

Brought to new quarters at the Como Park Zoo, Annie has been caged with two males and officials at the zoo hoped their might result a happy union.

But Annie apparently is deep in grief and shuns both males. She spends most of the time peering through the bars. When not at the bars, Annie sits in a distant corner, shielding her eyes with her hands and sometimes even sucking a thumb.

Zoo officials said today they're confident Annie will get over her grief in time.

Viet Cong Unit Under Stiff Fire

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A force of more than 1,000 South Vietnamese troops was trying today to drive a key Viet Cong unit in the Mekong River Delta into the South China Sea.

Government commanders claimed at least 86 guerrillas were killed and 34 captured in the opening phase of the operation in Kien Hoa Province Wednesday. U.S. helicopter pilots caught about 60 Viet Cong trying to swim an estuary and machine-gunned them in the waters. The Americans estimated they killed about 40 of the swimmers.

Two Americans were killed in fighting elsewhere in the delta south of Saigon Wednesday. At least 18 Viet Cong dead were reported in that engagement. The American deaths brought the toll of U.S. combat fatalities in Viet Nam to 353 since December 1961.

In the Kien Hoa operation, the government force attacked in landing craft from the sea and in helicopters, hoping to catch the Viet Cong in a pincer. The offensive was aimed at the extreme eastern edge of the Thanh Phu district 60 miles south of Saigon, a seaside area of dense mangrove swamp.

The government suspects that arms and munitions from North Viet Nam are landed there by junks.

U.S. advisers said the operation was preceded a month ago by an intense bombardment by 41 U.S. Air Force jets. Then leaflets and loudspeaker broad casts advised all civilians to leave the area to avoid being killed. Some 4,000 refugees about half the population of the area, left the swamp for government-controlled areas nearby, advisers said.

More air strikes, an artillery barrage and shelling from 3-inch naval guns and 20mm cannon came Wednesday. Vietnamese army and ranger troops went ashore in landing craft and helicopters, accompanied by seven armored personnel carriers.

Ground fighting was comparatively minor. One government soldier was killed and six were wounded, one by a snake bite.

Excited Teller Forgets Camera

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Barbara Coffman, a teller at the Suburban National Bank, said she was so excited she couldn't find the switch to turn on the automatic camera which is supposed to take pictures of bank robbers.

A lone bandit got about $6,000 from Mrs. Coffman in a quiet stickup at the bank Wednesday.

Mrs. Coffman said, "He came up to the booth, threw a paper sack on the counter, and said: 'Keep smiling lady, and keep filling that up with the green stuff.'"

Mrs. Coffman said he told her he had a gun, but she didn't see it. About 15 other employees were unaware of the robbery until the man left by the front door and disappeared.

Amish Replacing Barns

SHIPSHAWANA, Ind. (AP) — A barn a day has become the byword of scores of Amish and Mennonite volunteers who streamed into northern Indiana to aid victims of Palm Sunday tornadoes.

Amish around Lancaster, Pa., organized a 150-man force to come to Amish communities in Lagrange, Elkhart and St. Joseph counties to repair and replace homes and farm buildings.

The first group of 50 arrived this week and started the priority work of rebuilding the huge, two-story barns characteristic of the sect. An advance survey crew set the goal of one barn restored a day.

Other volunteers of both the Amish and Mennonite faiths have come from Illinois, Iowa, Ohio, Michigan, Virginia, Maryland and Canada.

The bearded volunteers are manning power saws to get the job done more quickly. They welcome the friendly neighbor farmer who supplies a bulldozer.

The Lancaster volunteers are living with Amish families who escaped the vicious storms that left 134 persons dead and hundreds injured in Indiana. They stay through the week,

Tremor Leaves Vast Damage

Scores Injured In Seattle Area

SEATTLE (AP) — A major earthquake hit the Pacific Northwest at 8:29 a.m. (PDt) today, causing widespread damage and one or more deaths.

The first confirmed fatality was in Seattle, where Adolphus Lewis, age undetermined, was struck by debris.

There were unconfirmed reports of two or three others killed in Seattle.

There were scores of injuries, many in Seattle from falling debris as some brick facing on older buildings toppled into the street.

The quake, rated at an intensity of more than 7 on the Richter scale, was felt from Coos Bay, on the Oregon coast, to southern British Columbia and east as far as Idaho.

The earthquake belt was at least 600 miles long, from north to south, and 400 miles wide.

Alaska points reported it was not felt there.

The tremor did structural damage in half a dozen cities and knocked out some hydro-electric circuits at the giant Grand Coulee Dam in northeast Washington.

Most damage appeared to be limited to cracked plaster, broken windows and dishes, and snapped wires.

The University of Washington seismologist said the quake was so strong it knocked the needle off the seismograph and he was unable to get a reading.

At Victoria, B.C., the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory said the same thing happened there.

At Olympia, the State Capitol Buildings shook for nearly a minute and state employees ran into the open.

The shock appeared to be worse than one which severely damaged the legislative buildings in 1949.

The tremor was felt from the coast to eastern Washington and from Oregon into British Columbia.

At Ellensburg, 100 miles east of Seattle, streets were jammed with people who fled from downtown buildings. Some windows were broken and walls cracked.

At Aberdeen, on the coast, the

He Is His Own 'Prison'

CHANDLER, Okla. (AP)—Jim Fleming's friends, trying to keep him out of a California prison from which he escaped nearly two years ago, have trapped him in another prison from which there can be no escape.

The new prison has no walls and there are no guards—except Fleming himself.

"If I run again now, too many people I love and respect will get hurt," said Fleming, 32, who until late March was just another car salesman to residents of this town of 3,000 persons.

In Washington, the Council of the Organization of American States (OAS) was summoned into emergency session, at U.S. request, to get a report on the action and to consider possible peace making efforts to end the bloody civil war.

U.S. officials said the United States was taking no sides in the political turmoil engulfing the republic. They said the Marines will serve no cause except to protect Americans and will stay there until their mission is completed.

Johnson's order marked the first use of Marines in Latin America in years. U.S. officials expected criticism from Latin Americans mindful of American "gunboat diplomacy" of a bygone era. But under international law, they said, a nation can send its forces to another land to protect its nationals when the local government breaks down.

Floodwaters rolled over more than 5,600 acres of farm land south of Quincy, but most of the city of 45,000 residents is situated on bluffs and is safe.

More than 15 square blocks of the business district were inundated in Hannibal, a city of 20,000.

The river burst a levee in the South Quincy drainage district, and engulfed more than 5,600 acres. Some 150 persons were evacuated.

Illinois 57 south of Quincy was closed and most rail traffic was stopped. Highway 36 and the Mark Twain Bridge were in danger of being closed.

Two National Guardsmen on the South Quincy levee when it broke were rescued by boats.

About 24 miles south of Quincy, the 560 residents of Hull, Ill., were ready to leave. Officials said the levees protecting the town would not hold.

In Hannibal, 23 families were evacuated from low areas as the river reached its highest level in history. Hannibal has no levee.

Civil Defense workers used a boat to patrol against looting in the flooded Hannibal business district. The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted a 25-foot crest Sunday.

Upriver, the crested Mississippi surged against soggy dikes in the Quad Cities of Moline, Rock Island and East Moline, Ill., and Davenport, Iowa. The area has a population of more than 270,000.

The Mississippi crested at 22.4 feet in Rock Island Wednesday, more than 7 feet above flood stage.

Thousands of volunteers continued an around-the-clock sandbagging job.

"This is the time you can get killed during a flood," one U.S. Corps of Engineers official said. "They're all out there piling sandbags while the river's rising, but the moment it starts to drop a tenth of a foot or two, they want to go home."

"And these dikes, the longer they're up, the soggier they get. They can go just like that. You don't even know what happened."

Mourning Ape Shuns Romance

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Annie, a rhesus monkey whose mate died in the flooded zoo at Mankato, Minn., recently, shows little inclination to get married again.

Brought to new quarters at the Como Park Zoo, Annie has been caged with two males and officials at the zoo hoped their might result a happy union.

But Annie apparently is deep in grief and shuns both males. She spends most of the time peering through the bars. When not at the bars, Annie sits in a distant corner, shielding her eyes with her hands and sometimes even sucking a thumb.

Zoo officials said today they're confident Annie will get over her grief in time.

Police Probe Burglary at Grade School

South Court Loot Estimated at $1530; Chicken Taken, Too

Circleville Police today are investigating a burglary last night at the S. Court St. School apparently committed by some hungry thieves.

Sgt. Turney Ross said the burglars took almost everything of value in the building, "including a tray of chicken". Value of missing articles was estimated at $1,530 by Virgil Cress, school business manager.

Police are not sure how many intruders were involved. But they feel sure that there was more than one.

All rooms, desks and filing cabinets in the building were ransacked.

Articles missing included a television set, a movie projector, two tape recorders, four record players, a radio, two film strip machines and a clarinet. Cooks at the school said a tray of chicken was apparently missing as well as some milk.

Police said a window on the southwest corner of the building was broken. They considered it the most likely means of entry.

Although the burglars did a thorough job of looking for articles of value, they did little damage other than to the window, officers said.

A number of cigarette butts were found on the floors of the building. This indicated the intruders spent considerable time in the building, police said.

Patrolman Wilham Brungs is assisting Sgt. Ross with the investigation.

Four-Month Steel Peace Is Assured

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A four-month labor peace pact guaranteed today a continued flow of steel for the nation's booming economy.

"It's all signed, sealed and delivered," said David J. McDonald, United Steelworkers president.

He and R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator for the basic steel industry, signed the temporary truce exchanging postponement of Saturday's scheduled strike for an 11.5-cent hourly pay hike.

Both emphasized a complete contract remains to be negotiated. Either side can serve 30-day notice April 1 to end the agreement, bringing on another steel strike threat Sept. 1.

With at least temporary labor peace assured, attention turned to Friday's scheduled announcement of the results of the union's presidential election—a major factor complicating the steel industry negotiations.

I.W. Abel, now secretary-treasurer, is expected to be the winner, ending McDonald's 12-year reign over the million-member union.

McDonald reportedly plans to challenge the expected result, asking the union's 33-man executive board to overturn it. He also may ask the U.S. Labor Department to investigate and seek a court order for a new election.

Appalachian Highway Fund Undetermined

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio will get some Appalachia funds for highway work this year but the amount hasn't been determined.

That opinion came Wednesday from John L. Sweeney, co-chairman of the Appalachia Regional Commission. He spoke to a meeting of the Southeast Ohio Regional Council and a gathering assembled by U. S. Rep. Walter Moeller.

Viet Cong Unit Under Stiff Fire

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A force of more than 1,000 South Vietnamese troops was trying today to drive a key Viet Cong unit in the Mekong River Delta into the South China Sea.

Government commanders claimed at least 86 guerrillas were killed and 34 captured in the opening phase of the operation in Kien Hoa Province Wednesday. U.S. helicopter pilots caught about 60 Viet Cong trying to swim an estuary and machine-gunned them in the waters. The Americans estimated they killed about 40 of the swimmers.

Two Americans were killed in fighting elsewhere in the delta south of Saigon Wednesday. At least 18 Viet Cong dead were reported in that engagement. The American deaths brought the toll of U.S. combat fatalities in Viet Nam to 353 since December 1961.

In the Kien Hoa operation, the government force attacked in landing craft from the sea and in helicopters, hoping to catch the Viet Cong in a pincer. The offensive was aimed at the extreme eastern edge of the Thanh Phu district 60 miles south of Saigon, a seaside area of dense mangrove swamp.

The government suspects that arms and munitions from North Viet Nam are landed there by junk.

U.S. advisers said the operation preceded a month ago by an intense bombardment by 41 U.S. Air Force jets. Then leaflets and loudspeaker broadcasts advised all civilians to leave the area to avoid being killed. Some 4,000 refugees about half the population of the area, left the swamp for government-controlled areas nearby, advisers said.

More air strikes, an artillery barrage and shelling from 3-inch naval guns and 20mm cannon came Wednesday. Vietnamese army and ranger troops went ashore in landing craft and helicopters, accompanied by seven armored personnel carriers.

Ground fighting was comparatively minor. One government soldier was killed and six were wounded, one by a snake bite.

Excited Teller Forgets Camera

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Barbara Coffman, a teller at the Suburban National Bank, said she was so excited she couldn't find the switch to turn on the automatic camera which is supposed to take pictures of bank robbers.

A lone bandit got about $6,000 from Mrs. Coffman in a quiet stickup at the bank Wednesday.

Mrs. Coffman said, "He came up to the booth, threw a paper sack on the counter, and said: 'Keep smiling lady, and keep filling that up with the green stuff.'"

Mrs. Coffman said he told her he had a gun, but she didn't see it. About 15 other employees were unaware of the robbery until the man left by the front door and disappeared.

Amish Replacing Barns

SHIPSHAWANA, Ind. (AP)—A barn a day has become the byword of scores of Amish and Mennonite volunteers who streamed into northern Indiana to aid victims of Palm Sunday tornadoes.

Amish around Lancaster, Pa., organized a 150-man force to come to Amish communities in Lagrange, Elkhart and St. Joseph counties to repair and replace homes and farm buildings.

The first group of 50 arrived this week and started the priority work of rebuilding the huge, two-story barns characteristic of the sect. An advance survey crew set the goal of one barn restored a day.

Other volunteers of both the

This morning the American pilot of an armed helicopter making a strike against a suspected Viet Cong position was shot through the throat. He was in serious condition.

A Vietnamese force operating in Binh Long Province, 80 miles southwest of Saigon, tangled Wednesday with a strong Viet Cong unit. A U.S. Army adviser was fatally wounded in the opening volley of Communist fire.

The Reds beat off an armed relief column. And American Army helicopters attempting to reach the American and some Vietnamese wounded also were forced from the area by heavy ground fire.

Ground troops finally fought their way into the battle zone, but another American was killed in the attack. A third American was wounded.

Eighteen Viet Cong dead were counted on the battle field.

U.S. Air Force B57 jet bombers carried out a midnight attack on North Viet Nam and reported moderate success in bombing highway routes 7, 8 and 12. A spokesman said 13 tons of bombs were dumped.

Aussies To Join Viet Nam Fight

Infantry Battalion Slated for Action

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—Prime Minister Sir Robert Menzies announced in the House of Representatives today Australia will provide an infantry battalion for service in South Viet Nam.

Sir Robert said the decision had been made on request of the South Vietnamese government for further military assistance.

Defense Minister Shane Paltridge declined to say when the battalion would leave and where it would be deployed in South Viet Nam.

Government sources had reported earlier that Australia would provide up to 800 army troops for combat duty with U.S. and South Vietnamese forces.

An Australian contingent of 800 men would be the second largest unit from any of America's allies in South Viet Nam. South Korea has 2,000 troops there, but they are primarily a work force to build and repair roads, bridges and railways.

Government sources said the decision to send Australian combat forces is not a result of the visit to Canberra last week by U.S. presidential envoy Henry Cabot Lodge. The Australian Cabinet had considered the idea of a more positive involvement.

Tremor Leaves Vast Damage

Scores Injured In Seattle Area

SEATTLE (AP)—A major earthquake hit the Pacific Northwest at 8:29 a.m. (PDt) today, causing widespread damage and one or more deaths.

The first confirmed fatality was in Seattle, where Adolphus Lewis, age undetermined, was struck by debris.

There were unconfirmed reports of two or three others killed in Seattle.

There were scores of injuries, many in Seattle from falling debris as some brick facing on older buildings toppled into the street.

The quake, rated at an intensity of more than 7 on the Richter scale, was felt from Coos Bay, on the Oregon coast, to southern British Columbia and east as far as Idaho.

The earthquake belt was at least 600 miles long, from north to south, and 400 miles wide.

Alaska points reported it was not felt there.

The tremor did structural damage in half a dozen cities and knocked out some hydroelectric circuits at the giant Grand Coulee Dam in northeast Washington.

Most damage appeared to be limited to cracked plaster, broken windows and dishes, and snapped wires.

The University of Washington seismologist said the quake was so strong it knocked the needle off the seismograph and he was unable to get a reading.

At Victoria, B.C., the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory said the same thing happened there.

At Olympia, the State Capitol Buildings shook for nearly a minute and state employees ran into the open.

The shock appeared to be worse than one which severely damaged the legislative buildings in 1949.

The tremor was felt from the coast to eastern Washington and from Oregon into British Columbia.

At Ellensburg, 100 miles east of Seattle, streets were jammed with people who fled from downtown buildings. Some windows were broken and walls cracked.

At Aberdeen, on the coast, the

Beauty Queen Handed Penalty

FALL RIVER, Mass. (AP)—A 17-year-old girl chosen Miss Fall River has been barred from her high school senior prom and graduation ceremonies.

Margaret Ann Potvin won the Junior Chamber of Commerce-sponsored beauty contest Tuesday night.

She wore a bathing suit in part of the competition in violation of rules at Mount St. Mary's Academy, the Roman Catholic high school she attends.

Margaret will get her diploma, and she received a $400 scholarship as contest winner. She plans to go to a nursing school.

Pakistanis Claim Victory

India Said Routed From Barren Area

BIAR-BET, Kutch (AP) — Pakistani forces claim they scored an easy victory over Indian troops in a four-day battle that ended with Pakistani occupation of this oasis in the baked, barren Rann of Kutch.

It is one of the most unlikely and desolate battlegrounds on earth. Soon the heat-scorched wastes will become marshy tundra, covered by water from the Arabian Sea whipped up by monsoon rains.

The temperature reaches 120 degrees during the day. The desert shimmers in the blinding heat.

Pakistani field commanders said almost all fighting takes place at night, when the heat subsides. The darkness also allows more freedom of movement across the empty flats where during the day one can see for miles.

Troops are dug in around the oasis which is several miles long. Some Pakistani tanks are parked nearby. No villages or civilians can be seen.

The Pakistani officers talked light-heartedly about their combat experience.

"We would have pushed them clear to Bombay," a captain said with a laugh. He said his troops suffered no fatalities in taking Biar-Bet and that the first evacuee was a wounded Indian.

The Pakistanis said they captured the oasis Monday night, inflicting heavy Indian losses. Biar-Bet is five miles south of what India claims to be its western border in the disputed Rann of Kutch area.

Maj. Gen. Tikka Khan said 350 Indian troops had been killed in heavy fighting since April 9. Khan, Pakistani commander in the Kutch, said only about 20 Pakistani soldiers had been killed. He said 45 Indians had been captured, including two officers.

India claimed 300 Pakistanis have been killed, wounded or captured and put its own losses at 65.

Johnson's Penny-Pinching Chided by Appropriators

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration was rebuked today by the House Appropriations Committee for penny-pinching in the fields of public health and manpower development and training.

In a sharply worded report accompanying a $7,964,004,000 appropriation bill for the Labor Department and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the committee called for some budget requests seriously deficient and inadequate quake was described as a rolling series of three shocks that caused buildings to sway. Most were evacuated.

In Seattle, the two-story, concrete Seattle Times Building jiggled like an electric vibrator. Plaster sifted down in the Associated Press rooms and Teletype printers stopped briefly. Telephone service also was interrupted for a few moments.

Murlin Spencer, Seattle bureau chief who directed coverage of the historic March 27, 1964 earthquake in Alaska, said the shock "has the feel of the second quake which hit Anchorage exactly one week after the first destructive one."

The second Alaska quake was rated at an intensity above 7 on the Richter scale.

A Seattle woman was reported to have suffered a heart attack when the tremor knocked down the trolley of the electric transit bus on which she was riding.

Eastbound lanes of a drawbridge over the Duwamish Waterway in Seattle were closed to all traffic except transit coaches because of a drop in the road level.

Women prisoners in Seattle's City Jail began screaming, "Let us out of here," as the building shook.

In Tacoma, 30 miles to the south, one of the main downtown streets, Pacific Avenue, was littered with bricks and debris.

At Everett, 26 miles north, the state patrol radio tower toppled, streets buckled and some water lines broke. Boulders came rolling down onto the Stevens Pass Highway from Mt. Persis east of Everett, causing some damage.

Bomb Shelter Is Defined in Court Ruling

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Designating a bomb shelter as "public building" for a bond issue proposal is not enough to comply with the state's uniform bond act, the Ohio Supreme Court says.

In a 5-2 decision Wednesday, the high court upheld an injunction granted by an appellate court against a bond issue approved in 1961 by the village of Terrace Park in Hamilton County.

A lower court refused an injunction to Walter P. Schnoerr, who had sued as a taxpayer to prevent issuance of the bonds. The Supreme Court, with Chief Justice Kingsley A. Taft and Judge Paul Brown W. Brown dissenting, upheld the appellate court's reversal of that ruling.

In other action, the high court: —Refused to review an appeal from decisions of lower courts in Athens County favoring the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. Lower courts awarded the railroad $23,064 for damage to a diesel locomotive which struck a truck on tracks near a crossing at Canaanville in 1960. Testimony showed the truck "drifted" unattended onto the tracks.

Lodge is touring friendly Far Eastern and Pacific nations to drum up support for U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Australia already has in South Viet Nam about 100 jungle combat advisers and a Royal Australian Air Force transport unit. The jungle advisers, like their U.S. counterparts, are not classified as combat troops. But they have been in combat areas for months and have suffered casualties in action, including one killed.

The U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, Maxwell D. Taylor told Italian newsmen earlier this month that "aside from the United States, the nationals of supporting nations in South Viet Nam number over 3,000." He said 37 nations have provided support or are about to give support to South Viet Nam.

The Sydney Sun said New Zealand is reported also to have agreed to provide further military aid to South Viet Nam. The newspaper said "observers believe that the underlying aim of the Australian and New Zealand decisions will be to influence Japan and the Philippines to give greater direct aid to the American cause in the Viet Nam struggle."

Additional Briefs Ordered In Joey Naples Dispute

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—U.S. District Judge Mell G. Underwood today ordered the Ohio attorney general and attorneys for Youngstown racketeer figure Joey Naples to file additional briefs in the case of Naples' release from Ohio Penitentiary.

The judge ordered the briefs during a discussion with attorneys in his chambers, following a hearing in court.

Naples, 31, was serving sentences for receiving stolen property and promoting a scheme of chance when released on a writ of habeas corpus last Dec. 22, after former Asst. Atty. Gen. John Cianflona recommended the writ.

Atty. Gen. Saxbe then fired Cianflona and charged the latter acted contrary to orders. Saxbe asked the court to reconsider the granting of the writ.

Today, Asst. Atty. Gen. David Kessler asked the court to make a ruling on the full merits of the case and not on just the motion to reconsider the granting of the writ. Kessler claims this is the court's duty.

Kessler contends Cianflona first filed briefs opposing the granting of the writ but then went into the courtroom and recommended the writ be granted. Kessler says the court should not have granted the writ merely on Cianflona's recommendation in the courtroom, but should have considered merits of the full case.

The judge gave the attorney general's office two weeks to file a brief showing by what authority the court should make findings of fact and conclusions on the full merits of the case.

Defense attorneys for Naples will then have two weeks to file action contending the writ should be allowed to stand, and then the attorney general will have one more week to answer that.

Naples originally sought his release on a writ of habeas corpus on grounds he was convicted on the basis of evidence obtained with an improper search warrant. Cianflona had grounds Naples' rights were violated when he did not receive a requested preliminary hearing in a municipal court.

Two weeks ago, Judge Underwood granted the attorney general two weeks to produce evidence to show Cianflona's recommendation was the result of "collusion, bribery or corruption." In court today, Kessler said the attorney general had "nothing further to offer" and asked the judge to consider the writ "On the full merits."

Turnpike To Curb Speedy Foreigners
NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—New Jersey Turnpike authorities have ordered foreign officials who speed to be banished from the busy superhighway.

William J. Flanagan, the turnpike's executive director, has ordered state troopers to usher off the road speeders protected by diplomatic immunity.

There have been 44 speeding violations by diplomatic cars on the 118-mile turnpike in the past nine years, and in five cases the cars were going more than 100 miles an hour, Flanagan said. The speed limit is 60 m.p.h.

The turnpike is a link in a direct highway route between New York and Washington.

Pakistanis Claim Victory

India Said Routed From Barren Area

BIAR-BET, Kutch (AP) — Pakistani forces claim they scored an easy victory over Indian troops in a four-day battle that ended with Pakistani occupation of this oasis in the baked, barren Rann of Kutch.

It is one of the most unlikely and desolate battlegrounds on earth. Soon the heat-scorched wastes will become marshy tundra, covered by water from the Arabian Sea whipped up by monsoon rains.

The temperature reaches 120 degrees during the day. The desert shimmers in the blinding heat.

Pakistani field commanders said almost all fighting takes place at night, when the heat subsides. The darkness also allows more freedom of movement across the empty flats where during the day one can see for miles.

Troops are dug in around the oasis which is several miles long. Some Pakistani tanks are parked nearby. No villages or civilians can be seen.

The Pakistani officers talked light-heartedly about their combat experience.

"We would have pushed them clear to Bombay," a captain said with a laugh. He said his troops suffered no fatalities in taking Biar-Bet and that the first evacuee was a wounded Indian.

The Pakistanis said they captured the oasis Monday night, inflicting heavy Indian losses. Biar-Bet is five miles south of what India claims to be its western border in the disputed Rann of Kutch area.

Maj. Gen. Tikka Khan said 350 Indian troops had been killed in heavy fighting since April 9. Khan, Pakistani commander in the Kutch, said only about 20 Pakistani soldiers had been killed. He said 45 Indians had been captured, including two officers.

India claimed 300 Pakistanis have been killed, wounded or captured and put its own losses at 65.

Johnson's Penny-Pinching Chided by Appropriators

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration was rebuked today by the House Appropriations Committee for penny-pinching in the fields of public health and manpower development and training.

In a sharply worded report accompanying a $7,964,034,000 appropriation bill for the Labor Department and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the committee called for some budget requests seriously deficient and inadequate and said one proposed cut was most foolish.

The report was written by Rep. John E. Fogarty, D-R.I. Backing up its views, the Democratic - controlled committee added $11.7 million to the budget of the National Institutes of Health and refused a request to eliminate the four-man staff handling the leadership training program for manpower training.

It said the proposal to abolish the four jobs was "one of the most foolish cuts in the budget" and added to the conviction of some people that a separate department of education and training should be established.

It approved the entire $273.5 million requested for the manpower program.

In boosting to $1,175,756,000 new funds for the health institutes, the committee said the original request failed to provide for any new advances in the attack on major disease problems or for acceleration of existing programs.

The amount recommended may be increased further when the House acts on the money bill next week.

Murlin Spencer, Seattle bureau chief who directed coverage of the historic March 27, 1964 earthquake in Alaska, said the shock "has the feel of the second quake which hit Anchorage exactly one week after the first destructive one."

The second Alaska quake was rated at an intensity above 7 on the Richter scale.

A Seattle woman was reported to have suffered a heart attack when the tremor knocked down the trolley of the electric transit bus on which she was riding.

Eastbound lanes of a drawbridge over the Duwamish Waterway in Seattle were closed to all traffic except transit coaches because of a drop in the road level.

Women prisoners in Seattle's City Jail began screaming, "Let us out of here," as the building shook.

In Tacoma, 30 miles to the south, one of the main downtown streets, Pacific Avenue, was littered with bricks and debris.

At Everett, 26 miles north, the state patrol radio tower toppled, streets buckled and some water lines broke. Boulders came rolling down onto the Stevens Pass Highway from Mt. Persis east of Everett, causing some damage.

Bomb Shelter Is Defined in Court Ruling

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Designating a bomb shelter as "public building" for a bond issue proposal is not enough to comply with the state's uniform bond act, the Ohio Supreme Court says.

In a 5-2 decision Wednesday, the high court upheld an injunction granted by an appellate court against a bond issue approved in 1961 by the village of Terrace Park in Hamilton County.

A lower court refused an injunction to Walter P. Schnoerr, who had sued as a taxpayer to prevent issuance of the bonds. The Supreme Court, with Chief Justice Kingsley A. Taft and Judge Paul Brown W. Brown dissenting, upheld the appellate court's reversal of that ruling.

In other action, the high court—Refused to review an appeal from decisions of lower courts in Athens County favoring the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. Lower courts awarded the railroad $25,064 for damage to a diesel locomotive which struck a truck on tracks near a crossing at Canaanville in 1960.

Testimony showed the truck "drifted" unattended onto the tracks.

Headlight Taken From Automobile

Mrs. Harold Hoffman, 475 E. Main St., told Circleville Police a headlight and two headlight rims were removed from her car Tuesday night.

She said the items were removed either when the car was in the Second National Bank Parking lot or while it was parked in front of her home.

CHS To Offer Four Courses This Summer

Circleville High School will hold summer school sessions from June 7 through July 19 to offer students an opportunity to take an extra course needed for graduation, to review a subject or to take an additional elective.

Courses which will be offered for review or completion are Algebra I and general math. Accelerated courses available are personal typing and driver education.

Sufficient registration is needed to justify the classes. Registrations are being accepted at the high school office now through May 7, it was announced by school administrators.

The registrations fee is payable at time of registration. The fee is $30 for driver education and $18 for each of the other courses available.

STUDENTS residing outside the Circleville City School District are required to pay an additional fee of $2 for each course.

Inquiries and requests for registration material should be directed to Circleville High School.

In Viet Nam for some time before Lodge's visit, the sources said.

Lodge is touring friendly Far Eastern and Pacific nations to drum up support for U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Australia already has in South Viet Nam about 100 jungle combat advisers and a Royal Australian Air Force transport unit.

The jungle advisers, like their U.S. counterparts, are not classified as combat troops. But they have been in combat areas for months and have suffered casualties in action, including one killed.

The U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, Maxwell D. Taylor told Italian newsmen earlier this month that "aside from the United States, the nationals of supporting nations in South Viet Nam number over 3,000." He said 37 nations have provided support or are about to give support to South Viet Nam.

The Sydney Sun said New Zealand is reported also to have agreed to provide further military aid to South Viet Nam. The newspaper said "observers believe that the underlying aim of the Australian and New Zealand decisions will be to influence Japan and the Philippines to give greater direct aid to the American cause in the Viet Nam struggle."

11 Colts Are Entered For Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Eleven sharply tuned 3-year-old colts, headed by the highly regarded Bold Lad, were named today for the 91st Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs Saturday.

If all 11 go postward, the Derby will have a value of $154,500 with the winner earning $112,000. Of the total purse $25,000 has been earmarked for the second-place finisher, $12,500 for third and $5,000 for fourth.

In addition to Bold Lad, the entries are Native Charger, Mr. Pak, Flag Raiser, Carpenter's Rule, Swift Ruler, Lucky Debonair, Hail To All, Narushua, Dapper Dan and Tom Rolfe.

In the draw for post position Dapper Dan, Bold Lad's stablemate, drew No. 1. Under Kentucky racing rules they will run as separate betting interests.

Narushua, who likely will not start should the going turn up muddy, drew No. 2 with Bold Lad in the favorable No. 3 spot.

Outside of the trio in order will be Native Charger, Flag Raiser, Carpenter's Rule, Hail To All, Lucky Debonair, Tom Rolfe, Mr. Pak and Swift Ruler.

Additional Briefs Ordered In Joey Naples Dispute

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—U.S. District Judge Mell G. Underwood today ordered the Ohio attorney general and attorneys for Youngstown rackets figure Joey Naples to file additional briefs in the case of Naples' release from Ohio Penitentiary.

The judge ordered the briefs during a discussion with attorneys in his chambers, following a hearing in court.

Naples, 31, was serving sentences for receiving stolen property and promoting a scheme of chance when released on a writ of habeas corpus last Dec. 22, after former Asst. Atty. Gen. John Cianflona recommended the writ.

Atty. Gen. Saxbe then fired Cianflona and charged the latter acted contrary to orders. Saxbe asked the court to reconsider the granting of the writ.

Today, Asst. Atty. Gen. David Kessler asked the court to make a ruling on the full merits of the case and not on just the motion to reconsider the granting of the writ. Kessler claims this is the court's duty.

Kessler contends Cianflona first filed briefs opposing the granting of the writ but then went into the courtroom and recommended the writ be granted. Kessler says the court should not have granted the writ merely on Cianflona's recommendation in the courtroom, but should have considered merits of the full case.

The judge gave the attorney general's office two weeks to file a brief showing by what authority the court should make findings of fact and conclusions on the full merits of the case.

Defense attorneys for Naples will then have two weeks to file a brief showing the writ should be allowed to stand, and then the attorney general will have one more week to answer that.

Naples originally sought his release on a writ of habeas corpus on grounds he was convicted on the basis of evidence obtained with an improper search warrant. Cianflona had grounds Naples' rights were violated when he did not receive a requested preliminary hearing in a municipal court.

Two weeks ago, Judge Underwood granted the attorney general two weeks to produce evidence to show Cianflona's recommendation was the result of "collusion, bribery or corruption." In court today, Kessler said the attorney general had "nothing further to offer" and asked the judge to consider the writ "On the full merits."

Turnpike To Curb Speedy Foreigners

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—New Jersey Turnpike authorities have ordered foreign officials who speed to be banished from the busy superhighway.

William J. Flanagan, the turnpike's executive director, has ordered state troopers to usher off the road speeders protected by diplomatic immunity.

There have been 44 speeding violations by diplomatic cars on the 118-mile turnpike in the past nine years, and in five cases the cars were going more than 100 miles an hour, Flanagan said. The speed limit is 60 m.p.h.

The turnpike is a link in a direct highway route between New York and Washington.

State Parks Fund Released

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Controlling Board released $2,103,863 today for construction of a 100-room tourist lodge complex in Hueston Woods State Park, Preble-Butler counties.

Assistant Director Robert W. Teater of the Department of Natural Resources said construction bids would be advertised by May 15.

The board released another $312,500 for 25 cabins at the park, and $20,000 to plan the extension of roads, parking and picnic areas, and sanitary facilities.

An additional $300,000 was released to Burr Oak for 25 cabins and facilities.

A 24-room addition to the existing manor house in Punderson State Park, Geauga County, will be constructed for $452,000, approved by the board.

Teater said all the money would come from the $250 million capital improvement bond issue approved by voters in 1963.

Of the total amount released, $192,000 will go to plan facilities in other parks.

They included: Delaware Reservoir, $36,000; Geneva-on-the-lake, $20,000 for a beach area, picnic facilities, parking and access roads; Grand Lake St. Marys, $10,000; Harrison County reclamation area, $7,000; Highlandtown Lake, Columbiana County, $20,000;

Hocking Hills State Park, $20,000; Jefferson County reclamation area, $7,000; Perry County reclamation area, $7,000; Ross County Lake, $10,000; Shawnee State Forest, $10,000; Clear Fork State Park, Ashland County, $15,000; Pine Lake State Park near Chillicothe, $10,000.

Friday Is Anniversary of Hitler's Suicide

BERLIN (AP) — If you stand atop a wooden platform at Potsdamer Platz in downtown Berlin and look slightly to your left across the concrete and barbed wire of the Red wall, you will see a grass-covered mound.

Occasionally East German Communist border guards walk past the gently sloping, 15-foot mound. Sometimes the guards walk up on it and observe the area around them, watching for refugees.

It is a macabre spectacle, considering that under their feet, beneath this mound, lies the tomb of Adolf Hitler's Third Reich — the bunker where history's murderous madman gave his last orders, before shooting himself.

It will be 20 years ago Friday

that the fuhrer's suicide ushered in the Goetterdaemmerung of Nazi Germany and was the climax of Berlin's collapse in flames.

The guns of the Red army were pounding the city and Soviet infantrymen were less than a mile from the Reich Chancellery.

Business Briefs

About 150 savings and loan executives from 14 counties, including Pickaway, are expected to attend the annual District No. 5 conference of the Ohio Savings and Loan League May 5 at Lake White Country Club in Waverly.

Edmund J. Kricker, president of First Federal S&L of Portsmouth and president of District No. 5, said the conference will discuss problems and practices affecting the industry.

Principal speaker will be F. Lester Jonte of Cincinnati, president of the Ohio League, and Joseph E. Linville of Columbus, League executive vice president.

Hitler was in his bunker, surrounded by a dozen of his faithful men, his bride, Eva Braun, and his favorite German police dog "Blondi."

Rather than fall into the hands of the Russians, who probably would have marched him through the streets of Moscow, he killed himself. Eva Braun, his mistress of many years and wife of a day, swallowed cyanide. The dog was poisoned.

Survivors in the bunker wrapped the bodies in blankets and tossed the bundles into a huge bomb crater outside — Adolf and Eva lying side by side with the dog on top of both.

Gasoline was poured over the bodies, a match was struck and, as the flames shot up, the burial party left the scene.

Next day, the Nazi radio broadcast that the fuhrer died "the death of a hero at the head of his troops defending the Reich capital."

But when the war ended, the story of his death was pieced together from testimony of those who survived.

Over the years rumors bubbled through the world that Hitler had survived; had escaped in a submarine to South America; had holed up in the Alps.

Until recently, the Russians kept silent about what they found.

They finally talked, they said, because a West Berlin prosecutor had filed charges against Hitler to assure his prosecution for crimes against humanity if he should ever turn up, after the expiration of the statute of limitations.

Yelena Rshevskaya, a member of a Soviet army intelligence team charged with arresting top-ranking Nazis, said in a radio report there was irrefutable evidence that Hitler had died.

Miss Rshevskaya described in detail how the bodies of Hitler and Eva Braun were found in the bomb crater but did not say where the remains eventually were buried.

Friday Is Anniversary of Hitler's Suicide

BERLIN (AP) — If you stand atop a wooden platform at Potsdamer Platz in downtown Berlin and look slightly to your left across the concrete and barbed wire of the Red wall, you will see a grass-covered mound.

Occasionally East German Communist border guards walk past the gently sloping, 15-foot mound. Sometimes the guards walk up on it and observe the area around them, watching for refugees.

It is a macabre spectacle, considering that under their feet, beneath this mound, lies the tomb of Adolf Hitler's Third Reich — the bunker where history's murderous madman gave his last orders, before shooting himself.

It will be 20 years ago Friday

that the fuhrer's suicide ushered in the Goetterdaemmerung of Nazi Germany and was the climax of Berlin's collapse in flames.

The guns of the Red army were pounding the city and Soviet infantrymen were less than a mile from the Reich Chancellery.

Business Briefs

About 150 savings and loan executives from 14 counties, including Pickaway, are expected to attend the annual District No. 5 conference of the Ohio Savings and Loan League May 5 at Lake White Country Club in Waverly.

Edmund J. Krickler, president of First Federal S&L of Portsmouth and president of District No. 5, said the conference will discuss problems and practices affecting the industry.

Principal speaker will be F. Lester Jonte of Cincinnati, president of the Ohio League, and Joseph E. Linville of Columbus, League executive vice president.

Hitler was in his bunker, surrounded by a dozen of his faithful men, his bride, Eva Braun, and his favorite German police dog "Blondi."

Rather than fall into the hands of the Russians, who probably would have marched him through the streets of Moscow, he killed himself. Eva Braun, his mistress of many years and wife of a day, swallowed cyanide. The dog was poisoned.

Survivors in the bunker wrapped the bodies in blankets and tossed the bundles into a huge bomb crater outside — Adolf and Eva lying side by side with the dog on top of both.

Gasoline was poured over the bodies, a match was struck and, as the flames shot up, the burial party left the scene.

Next day, the Nazi radio broadcast that the fuhrer died "the death of a hero at the head of his troops defending the Reich capital."

But when the war ended, the story of his death was pieced together from testimony of those who survived.

Over the years rumors bubbled through the world that Hitler had survived; had escaped in a submarine to South America; had holed up in the Alps.

Until recently, the Russians kept silent about what they found.

They finally talked, they said, because a West Berlin prosecutor had filed charges against Hitler to assure his prosecution for crimes against humanity if he should ever turn up, after the expiration of the statute of limitations.

Yelena Rshvskaya, a member of a Soviet army intelligence team charged with arresting top-ranking Nazis, said in a radio report there was irrefutable evidence that Hitler had died.

Miss Rshvskaya described in detail how the bodies of Hitler and Eva Braun were found in the bomb crater but did not say where the remains eventually were buried.

Another Certainty Fails

This is not the kind of information mothers will want to let fall into junior's grubby little hands, but there's unsettling news abroad. It's the sort of thing scientific research often winds up with.

Doctors on both sides of the Atlantic have discovered that washing the hands with warm water and soap actually increases the number of bacteria to be found on them. It seems the hot water opens the pores and throws wide the door to "deep reservoirs" of germs.

It's a good thing, they say, that the doctor who scrubs and scrubs draws on those gloves before surgery. As for the small fry, well, regardless of the bacteria, it's a safe bet mothers still aren't going to be able to stand the sight of those hands.

ONE OF THE most promising new congressmen in Washington these days is California's John Tunney, son of the ex-heavyweight champ, Gene Tunney. While campaigning at a street corner in the desert metropolis of El Centro in 118-degree heat, young Mr. Tunney had a valuable piece of advice whispered to him by a well-wisher of 75. "Son," was the message, "you'd better finish up your speech in some air-conditioned building. Nobody in this town is going to vote for a darn fool who campaigns outdoors on a day like this!"

A magazine offered a prize to the reader who came up with the best way to hold a wife. An entry that unfortunately was not awarded first place came from a subscriber in a state penitentiary. It read, "I found the best way was around the neck, but the operation should not be overdue. Please note change of address."

My teen-age son has fallen in with a group of marijuana smokers, all boys of good families. I have been terribly upset since I found out. He and his friends are fast talkers and try to sell me the idea that marijuana is not habit-forming and that they can stop any time they want to.

Mr. B. B. L., California
Dear Mr. L.: Watch out. The red light is glowing.

Don't be "conned" by the sophisticated friends who are playing with dynamite.

They may give you all the pseudo - scientific double-talk that marijuana is not an addictive or habit-forming drug. This one fact is true.

Marijuana or "Pot" smokers are bound together and solidified by their own neurotic tendencies. Unfortunately many "sophisticates" soon graduate from marijuana to cocaine, and then to heroin.

And when they arrive at the end point of heroin, there is little or no hope for correction. Physicians, psychiatrists and sociologists despair at the vague possibilities of rehabilitation when the victims move from M to H.

And they are all victims of drug addiction that stems originally from the temptation and curiosity to try marijuana. Perhaps your son and his

Ronald Reagan's Education

By John Chamberlain

Why is it that Republicans, who haven't the ghost of a chance of staging a political comeback if they don't set some limits to their internecine warfare, persist in trying to destroy the availability of any new potential party luminary before he has had any real chance to shine?

Several weeks ago ex-Governor Goodie Knight of California raised the issue of actor and TV-star Ronald Reagan's "left wing record" as of the mid-Nineteen Forties. Reagan, on the basis of a great speech made in the closing stages of the 1964 Republican Presidential campaign, must be considered a Republican hope in a world that is almost bereft of such hopes. There was no point in trying to cut Reagan up for youthful associations that contributed vastly to his awareness of what Communists are doing, for knowledge of how the Left agitates and schemes to put over its policies is something in which most Republicans, including Goodie Knight, are woefully deficient. Goodie Knight was properly reprimanded, both in this column and elsewhere, for his foolishness in trying to slap Reagan down for having a "left-wing record" that does not "inspire confidence among Republicans."

The will to suicide among Republicans, however, is apparently limitless. For here we have Harvey Mydland, a past president of the California Republican Assembly, insisting that Reagan's "left-wing record" be itemized to the last inch, for all the world as if Reagan were being cited as a suspicious character by the late Senator Joe McCarthy. Reagan, Mr. Mydland writes, signed or sponsored Leftist protests on our atomic and Far Eastern policies along with Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas, Colonel Evans Carlson, and the chairman of the Communist Party in the Los Angeles area. And speaking "without malice," Mr. Mydland goes on to tell about the appearance of Ronald Reagan in a series of broadcasts sponsored by the Mobilization for Democracy in cooperation with the Hollywood Writers Mobilization. The Mobilization for Democracy was named by the House Committee on Un-American Activities as "one of the most potentially potent front organizations created by California Communists since 1945." As for the Hollywood Writers Mobilization, it was the direct successor to the Pacific Coast branch of the Communist-manipulated League of American Writers.

when he substituted for Jimmy Roosevelt in making a forty-minute speech. He received "riotous applause more than twenty times" for his denunciations of Fascism. "Then," so he recalls, "I denounced Communism. The silence was ghastly. I stumbled off the stage into the clasp of a friend whose face reflected my own amazement." From this time on, says Mr. Reagan, "I determined to do my own research, find out my own facts... I owe it to that period that I managed to sort out a lot of items in my personal life. From being an active (though unconscious) partisan in what now and then turned out to be Communist causes, I little by little became disillusioned or perhaps, in my case, I should say awakened."

Ronald Reagan has had a most valuable education in the ways of the Communists. He should be welcomed by every Republican who prizes knowledge, the aching dearth of which in high places is almost certain to be the ruination of the United States.

Perhaps your son and his friends can stop "pot smoking" when "they want to quit." But don't bet on it and don't adopt the "this, too, shall pass" attitude. For this, too, shall, and can, pass straight on to permanent drug addiction.

Parents must pursue this problem relentlessly with all the forces they can muster. Doctors, spiritual advisors and educators can be the buttresses against this danger of marijuana — a danger lurking actively in your home.

Where are the "boys" tonight? Under supervision? Under guidance?

The greatest gift of the security that adolescents need can be given them by establishing their limits of activity.

Discipline with understanding, constant guidance and education can convert the restless "pot" smoker to a happy human being.

Unfortunately, yours is not an unusual or isolated problem. You would probably be amazed to know how prevalent marijuana smoking has become among teenagers, and even pre-teenagers, in some of the best public and private schools of America.

Parents must heed the warning siren if their children are to be channeled into healthy maturity.

As for the Hollywood Writers Mobilization, it was the direct successor to the Pacific Coast branch of the Communist-manipulated League of American Writers.

Well, so what and ho hum. This record of having had his nose rubbed in the Communist conspiracy is not something that Ronald Reagan is trying to hide. In his own recent book, "Where's the Rest of Me?," Mr. Reagan tells all about his experiences as a returned army veteran of 1946, when he was looking for an evangelistic outlet for his overwhelming desire to "save the world from neo-Fascism." "I was," he writes, "blindly and busily joining every organization I could find that would guarantee to save the world. I was not sharp about Communism: the Russians still seemed to be our allies. . . . In that era, the American Communists were high on the Hollywood hog, but only by reason of deception. Most of us called them liberals and, being liberal ourselves, bedded down with them with no thought for the safety of our wallets."

Ronald Reagan got his first intimation that his "liberal" friends were not on the level

when he substituted for Jimmy Roosevelt in making a forty-minute speech. He received "riotous applause more than twenty times" for his denunciations of Fascism. "Then," so he recalls, "I denounced Communism. The silence was ghastly. I stumbled off the stage into the clasp of a friend whose face reflected my own amazement." (Continued from Page 1)

Reports reaching the President told of gun battles in Santo Domingo, looting, Communist agitation, the collapse of local authority and word from the Dominicans that they could not guarantee the safety of the Americans there.

U.S. officials gave this account of the crisis action:

In attempts to return to democracy after 34 years of Trujillo dictatorship, Santo Domingo has had 8 governments in the last 4 years. The country also has been in deep economic trouble. The American ambassador, W. Tapley Bennett, was recalled to Washington last Friday to see what could be done about it.

On Saturday, rebels favoring the return of former President Juan Bosch sought to oust the Donald Reid Cabral government, which had come under widespread criticism for its belt-tightening austerity program to improve the economy.

The insurgents split into groups favoring others as well as Bosch.

Fighting flared sporadically and out of control. Cease-fire agreements were made and broken. A U.S. naval task force headed by the carrier Boxer, with some 1,500 Marines aboard, moved near but out of sight of Santo Domingo Sunday, strictly as a precautionary measure.

Ambassador Bennett hurried back and tried his hand, in vain, at arranging a cease-fire.

On Tuesday, 1,172 Americans were evacuated by helicopter and landing craft at Haina, though not without a scare. A band of 200-300 machinegun-armed civilians accosted the Americans while they were waiting at the Embiador Hotel. They finally left without hurting the refugees.

Still there are about 1,000 Americans in the city and 1,000 in the countryside. Most of those who have been evacuated so far are tourists, transients and dependents of U.S. officials.

Dominican armored forces crossed the bridge into the capital. From another direction 1,000 Dominican army troops were fighting through the city from block to block.

Johnson ordered the Marines ashore during a 5-6 p.m. meeting at his White House office Wednesday with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Johnson was told that 300 more Americans had assembled on the Polo Grounds asking for evacuation. Also, the local police chief, identified as Des Peral, and the noninsurgents' second provisional government had said they could not guarantee the safety of the Americans or of the American Embassy, which had been machine-gunned.

The President hurriedly called in congressional leaders of both parties to tell them of his decision. Some of the Republicans had been at a dinner honoring Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. Dirksen was among those at the White House session. He said the legislators supported Johnson in whatever action is necessary to protect U.S. citizens.

Going on the air, Johnson announced to the American people his decision to send in the Marines.

Past periods of frequent U.S. intervention are still fresh in the minds of many Latin Americans. U.S. Marines occupied Santo Domingo in 1916-24. They were in Nicaragua in 1927-33.

This time Washington is stressing hands-off the domestic political situation in Santo Domingo, saying its sole aim is to protect the lives of Americans and other foreign nationals. The French have sent a nonmilitary ship to evacuate their citizens and others have asked for U.S. help.

The 400 Marines were reported to have gone from the Boxer to the Polo Grounds, a convenient wayside point between Santo Domingo and Haina, by helicopter. They consisted of two rifle companies and a helicopter squadron.

Marine Col. W. E. Daugherty is in command of the Marine expeditionary unit. Washington officials said the commander on the spot was being given discretion on just how to deploy his forces to meet the situation.

Evacuees were being taken to San Juan, P.R.

What degree of influence the Communists are exerting amid the anarchy is still being studied by U.S. authorities. Leaders of three Communist groups were reported active.

State Agency Seeks to Assure Ohio of Ample Migrant Laborers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Farm laborers who never worked in Ohio may cause a shortage of help to harvest the state's multimillion-dollar vegetable crop this year.

The threat of a farm labor shortage was created when an act permitting Mexican migrant workers — braceros — to enter the United States expired last Dec. 31. The Mexicans for years supplemented the domestic supply of migrant workers.

Ohio never used braceros during its May-October harvest season. But it ranks 12th among states employing migrant labor, and states that did use braceros, particularly California, now are competing for domestic migrants.

But Jim Byrne, farm placement chief for the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation is optimistic about supplying Ohio growers with 18,000 migrant workers needed to pick tomatoes, sugar beets and cucumbers, the state's major harvest crops using temporary workers.

The peak number of laborers at any one time during the season is about 9,400.

The state is moving to make sure Ohio employers have the migrant workers they will need.

Byrne sent a representative to the South and Southwest Ohio's main source of farm labor, to recruit workers. The recruiter is Arturo Presas, a former migrant worker turned specialist in the seasonal labor field.

Presas' job is to sell Ohio's reputation to the workers.

"We have the feeling that they individually and collectively think Ohio is a good place to work," Byrne said. The state favors recruiting family groups of workers instead of "stags," Byrne said. "We hope to retain this as an advantage."

Labor housing is important. Mrs. Sally Bingham, director of information for the Industrial Relations Department, reported "Living conditions in Ohio are decidedly better." A state law sets minimum standards for migrant workers.

The Health Department is expanding its health-care program for migrants. Dr. Thomas A. Gardner, chief of the Local Bureau Services, said dental facilities have been added this year to the state-operated clinics which care for migrants.

The state pays for some medical facilities, since the workers come under unemployment compensation and insurance laws.

Growers who hire migrant workers look to the South rather than to unemployment rolls for help. They specifically seek "Texicans," Americans of Mexican descent who come from the southern states. They make up about 90 per cent of Ohio's migrant force.

Growers want "Texicans" because, they say, Ohio's unemployed are not used to "stoop labor" of the vegetable harvest. Ohio officials agree.

"In the first place, most of them do not want to do this stoop labor — bending over," Mrs. Bingham said. "They think they're going to die of a backache. Mexicans have done it from birth. It is actually skilled labor."

Ohio's canners are directly involved in the migrant labor field and they are optimistic about the situation.

E. E. Richards, plant manager for H. J. Heinz Co. at Bowling Green, said, "I think Ohio is in the best position of the Midwestern states."

Paul Korn, vice president of

St. Mary's Foods, Inc., at Delphos, felt the situation is serious but, "Personally, I think we stand a fair chance of getting a reasonable amount of help."

But he predicted that labor is going to be "very tight."

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Repeat Request

DEAR ABBY: We have three daughters, 11, 15 and 17, who can't wait until they reach the age where they will be their "own boss." In your opinion is there such an age? I believe you once said there was not, and you listed a few accomplishments a girl had to achieve before she could be her own "boss." I would appreciate your reviewing that list.

A MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: In order to be one's own boss (in my opinion) a girl must be able to leave her parents' home, pay for her own clothing, insurance, medical and dental care, and pay for the continuance of her own education, transportation, and recreation. Then she has the privilege of choosing her own company, making her own decisions and being her own "boss."

DEAR ABBY: In your column you stated that the widow who removed her wedding ring is thereby telling the world that she is "looking." I cannot speak for other widows but, in my case, nothing could be further from the truth. When my husband died a year ago, after 30 years of happiness, I placed MY wedding ring on HIS finger as a token of my undying love for him. My wedding ring had never been removed from the time he placed it on my finger during our wedding ceremony. We are both of Irish descent, and it is an old Irish custom. It has been observed by all the women in either family as far back as we can remember. And there is no record of any woman in either family having remarried. Personally, I could not more marry again than I could have been unfaithful to him while he was still living. And I know many ringless widows who share my feeling. Furthermore I resent such sweeping generalities.

RINGLESS
DEAR RINGLESS: No offense intended. I should have used the word "available." You are not, but other widows without rings possibly are. Thank you for your enlightening letter

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for telling that mother whose 23-year-old son wants to marry a 33-year-old widow that the marriage could work. If that "older woman loves her 23-year-old husband as much as I love MY husband, the mother should be grateful. My husband is 20 and I am 31. We've been married ten months and my young husband has taught me more about living and being a mature woman, wife and mother, than anyone in my life. He proudly refers to his 12-year-old stepson as "my son." The children adore him and I worship him. He has done more for us than either of my two former husbands. (You see, I was no prize package.) I would go to the ends of the earth and back again for this man.

PROUD WIFE
DEAR PROUD: Congratulations, but in my book, you are still on your honeymoon. If, after ten YEARS, you can write the above letter, I would say you had it made. It's not hard to understand why a twice-married, 31-year-old divorcee with three children would worship a young man who would marry her and adopt her children. Be good to him. He's one in a million.

NEW YORK (AP) — Television audiences had an hour-long introduction Wednesday night to the current singing sensation, Barbra Streisand, at 23 the star of a Broadway hit.
CBS' "My Name is Barbra" was a flashy and imaginative demonstration of her talents, literally a one-woman show in which she sang, by actual count 25 songs, engaged in an outrageous spoof of the high fashion business and even tried a comedy monologue.

We met many different Streisands in moods ranging from serious to silly.

She has an exciting voice, a highly individual style, interesting looks and a glossy sophistication of style that may be a little hard to take by music conservatives who prefer "Lover Come Back to Me" sung as Sigismund Romberg wrote it.

The sleek production of the program was reminiscent of that which surrounded Judy Garland in her earlier specials. But in spite of everything, the hour seemed a little long. ABC's "King Family" hour will continue through the summer with new programs, only to be chopped in half when the fall season starts in September.

There was a vast outpouring of sympathy notes recently when the senior member of the clan, William King Driggs, died at 79.

Driggs, a veteran vaudevilli-an, was the father of the six sisters and two brothers who are the parents of all the youthful Kings.

CBS will pre-empt "Great Adventure" Friday night for a memorial program, "An Hour with Ed Murrow." Eric Sevareid and Charles Collingwood, former colleagues of the newscaster who died of cancer on Tuesday, will narrate the program. It will consist primarily of excerpts from his radio and television broadcasts.

Recommended tonight: "Worlds Fair Spectacular," ABC, 10-11 (Eastern Daylight Time) — Gordon and Sheila MacRae in the last of their special musical variety shows, this one a tour of New York's big show.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is an ABC on a hot dispute.

The Senate, now debating a bill to protect Negroes' voting rights, is in knots over one section which would outlaw the poll tax as a requirement for voting in state elections.

The Constitution's 24th Amendment, adopted Jan. 24, 1964, bars the poll tax in federal elections, says nothing about state elections. Since the Constitution is silent on that, the question is:

Does Congress have the right to forbid poll taxes in state elections since these are state matters?

President Johnson himself this week, although he demanded a voting right bill, expressed concern that if it passed with the antipoll-tax provision as it now stands there may be long court fights over it.

The attempt to keep certain groups of people from voting at all is an old story in American history. Negroes are just the latest target.

The Constitution's framers in 1787 were divided on whether poor men should be permitted to vote. The Constitution was left blank on this, thus allowing states to fix their own voting qualifications.

All the states imposed property qualifications. One by one the states abandoned them. After the 15th Amendment was adopted in 1870 to protect the voting rights of newly freed Negroes, Southern states thought up the poll tax.

That amendment said a citizen couldn't be deprived of his right to vote — by federal or state governments — because of race or color. Eleven Southern states adopted poll taxes. Only four still have them: Alabama, Mississippi, Texas, Virginia.

In a test case from Georgia in 1937 the Supreme Court upheld the validity of the poll tax as a voting requirement, reasoning it didn't abridge the right to vote. The court considered the tax just an ordinary revenue measure.

And up until now—or at least until this week — that has been the position of federal courts. But that 1937 court blithely ignored the fact that in the Georgia case the state made no attempt to collect the tax from those who did not try to vote. Yet, the court said it was a revenue measure.

But the poll tax has been under attack ever since. In 1938 the Southern Conference of Human Welfare condemned it as a device to keep Negroes from voting. And in 1947 President Truman's Committee on Civil Rights called for outlawing it, saying "it simply places the payment of a fee between the voter and the ballot box."

Bills to ban it were offered in every session of Congress after 1939. Five times the House passed antipoll-tax bills. But Southern Democrats in the Senate were always able to block them there.

It remained such a sore subject that finally both houses, and three-quarters of the states, approved the 24th Amendment. But — this amendment only banned payment of a poll tax for voting in federal elections.

It said nothing about the constitutionality of the poll tax requirement in state elections.

Virginia tried a clumsy gimmick to get around the 24th Amendment even in federal elections by passing a 1963 law which said: If Virginians wanted to vote in federal elections they didn't have to pay a poll tax if — it was quite an if — they filed a certificate of residence six months before the election and had it notarized.

This week the Supreme Court declared that law unconstitutional, contrary to the 24th Amendment, for the certificate, so clearly linked to the poll tax was exacting a "price" for the right to vote.

And, the court said, the Virginia poll tax "was born of a desire to disenfranchise the Negro." Nevertheless, the court here was only barring the poll tax or the alternative of a certificate in federal elections. It still didn't rule on state elections.

But, from the language used, there doesn't seem much doubt if confronted with the problem that the court would declare poll taxes in state elections unconstitutional, too, because they require a "price" to vote.

Actually, no matter what kind of voting bill Congress passes, the court has agreed to hear next fall a case arguing against Virginia's constitutional right to

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is an ABC on a hot dispute.

The Senate, now debating a bill to protect Negroes' voting rights, is in knots over one section which would outlaw the poll tax as a requirement for voting in state elections.

The Constitution's 24th Amendment, adopted Jan. 24, 1964, bars the poll tax in federal elections, says nothing about state elections. Since the Constitution is silent on that, the question is:

Does Congress have the right to forbid poll taxes in state elections since these are state matters?

President Johnson himself this week, although he demanded a voting right bill, expressed concern that if it passes with the anti-poll-tax provision as it now stands there may be long court fights over it.

The attempt to keep certain groups of people from voting at all is an old story in American history. Negroes are just the latest target.

The Constitution's framers in 1787 were divided on whether poor men should be permitted to vote. The Constitution was left blank on this, thus allowing states to fix their own voting qualifications.

All the states imposed property qualifications. One by one the states abandoned them. After the 15th Amendment was adopted in 1870 to protect the voting rights of newly freed Negroes, Southern states thought up the poll tax.

That amendment said a citizen couldn't be deprived of his right to vote — by federal or state governments — because of race or color. Eleven Southern states adopted poll taxes. Only four still have them: Alabama, Mississippi, Texas, Virginia.

In a test case from Georgia in 1937 the Supreme Court upheld the validity of the poll tax as a voting requirement, reasoning it didn't abridge the right to vote. The court considered the tax just an ordinary revenue measure.

And up until now—or at least until this week — that has been the position of federal courts. But that 1937 court blithely ignored the fact that in the Georgia case the state made no attempt to collect the tax from those who did not try to vote. Yet, the court said it was a revenue measure.

But the poll tax has been under attack ever since. In 1938 the Southern Conference of Human Welfare condemned it as a device to keep Negroes from voting. And in 1947 President Truman's Committee on Civil Rights called for outlawing it, saying "it simply places the payment of a fee between the voter and the ballot box."

Bills to ban it were offered in every session of Congress after 1939. Five times the House passed anti-poll-tax bills. But Southern Democrats in the Senate were always able to block them there.

It remained such a sore subject that finally both houses, and three-quarters of the states, approved the 24th Amendment. But — this amendment only banned payment of a poll tax for voting in federal elections.

It said nothing about the constitutionality of the poll tax requirement in state elections.

Virginia tried a clumsy gimmick to get around the 24th Amendment even in federal elections by passing a 1963 law which said: If Virginians wanted to vote in federal elections they didn't have to pay a poll tax if — it was quite an if — they filed a certificate of residence six months before the election and had it notarized.

This week the Supreme Court declared that law unconstitutional, contrary to the 24th Amendment, for the certificate, so clearly linked to the poll tax was exacting a "price" for the right to vote.

And, the court said, the Virginia poll tax "was born of a desire to disenfranchise the Negro." Nevertheless, the court here was only barring the poll tax or the alternative of a certificate in federal elections. It still didn't rule on state elections.

But, from the language used, there doesn't seem much doubt if confronted with the problem that the court would declare poll taxes in state elections unconstitutional, too, because they require a "price" to vote.

Actually, no matter what kind of voting bill Congress passes, the court has agreed to hear next fall a case arguing against Virginia's constitutional right to CLEVELAND (AP) — A federal mediator says negotiators for the Gulf Oil Corp. and striking Teamsters Local 545 have reached a tentative agreement. Luther J. DeSantis said Wednesday union negotiators will recommend settlement to their membership.

Negotiations will continue today between the union and Mobil Oil Co. and Texaco. Some 300 members of the Petroleum Truck Drivers Union struck the three companies last week in a dispute over wages.

Mrs. Poetker judged the International flower show held in New York. Peg Stallings who introduced Mrs. Poetker did not include this in her introductory remarks. But we both agreed it is too grand an honor not to mention.

After Mrs. Poetker's lecture, flowers were given away as door prizes. Edith Teegardin won the silver cabbages. They were real ones sprayed with silver and were just beautiful.

Mrs. Harry Wright has a magnolia which is 8-years-old and which was a sight to be proud of this past week. She has some moving pictures of the girls in the family dressed in Easter frocks walking past the tree. This was taken a couple of years ago but it is a favorite picture.

Mrs. Jack McGuire had a most unusual Easter season surprise. They switched their lights on which lighted up the area in front of their picture window. Outdoors was a mother rabbit and three babies. The McGuires watched as the young rabbits nursed. When dinner was over they all scampered in different directions.

Mrs. Darrell Hatfield visited Mary Shortridge's daffodil garden last week. And when Mary heard about the Hatfield daffodils she returned the visit.

Miss Ann Pierce, Mrs. Bill Dixon and the garden editor also visited the Hatfield garden when the daffs were at their best. Handy Hatfield had his plants carefully labeled.

The James Scotts on Northridge Road always have plenty of bloom in their big gardens. Spring is no exception. Twist flowering shrubs and flowering bulbs the Scott place is lovely now and will be throughout the summer.

Bright Show Is Provided By Sultanas

The Pickaway County Chapter of the American Red Cross, Pickaway and Watt Sts., had better look to its laurels. For a good many years the bright sultanas blooming in the chapter's windows were second to none.

But the Red Cross Sultanas are being challenged this year by the garden editor who has six pots of salmon sultana in blossom in her diningroom window.

The sultanas were cuttings from a fine specimen growing at the back porch door of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Everet. The cuttings were rooted in water and planted six weeks later in not-too-good soil.

The plants lost their leaves during a below zero spell of winter weather but somehow survived. They now get a weekly foliar feeding of dissolved Nutro crystals. And they are fine specimens indeed.

I AM SO enthusiastic about foliar feeding that I am drenching my bleeding hearts which have never put on an outstanding performance yet in my garden.

It has been several years since I had houseplants. And the six pots of sultanas are now the only ones I have. But they are eye-catching and colorful.

The advice given once by a physical education instructor holds good for plants as well as gymnastic exhibitions.

She said, "It is lots more effective to have a great many students doing easy exercises than to have a few gifted students doing difficult ones."

The garden editor was about to name the Japanese weeping cherry at Carl Leist's the tree of the week. This cherry is about 14 or 15 years old. Brehmer's planted it soon after the Leist home was completed.

Then we went past Mrs. Ed Wallace's weeping cherry that leans over Hargus Creek at the bridge on N. Court St. So we decided not to name a tree of the week. The Wallace specimen is a very old one and has gone through many vicissitudes. One exceedingly cold season a large part of the top was winter killed. But today it is a beautiful graceful tree that lends enchantment to old Hargus.

This is a fine year for Forsythia. It's bright gold is to be seen everywhere. Town residents have to give their forsythias severe trimming or it grows out of bounds. So many of the shrubs in Circleville have been given crew haircuts so to speak. Tough! Because Forsythia has considerable grace to its branches.

Miss Florence Bitzer has her miniature greenhouse in operation now. She has planted Appleblossom petunias and miniature snapdragons. Both of these are All-America selections. She lives at 137 Watt St. and gives away most of her seedlings, for alas she has no garden space.

A small purple leafed beech is growing in the Emmitt Barnhart yard between two tall elms. Mrs. Barnhart believes that the elms will not live too much longer and the beech will be taking their place in the future.

Everybody at the Circleville Daily Herald is happy and smiling over the nuptials of staffer Dick Davis and his bride Bobbie Galvin. But the garden editor's joy is shadowed with a tear. Unlike Mrs. Milton Davis (Dick's mother) who is gaining a daughter, I am losing a talented good natured and patient work pageant director. Our community will miss him next Labor Day.

Mrs. Harry Barthelmas was out digging dandelions in her nicely kept backyard last Thursday. She allows the dandelions to achieve considerable size and then she starts digging before they can scatter seeds. She lives at 224 N. Scioto St. We took her picture at work.

From the Barthelmas backyard one can see Miss Marie Hamilton's grand old magnolias. She has the magnolia Soul-angenna Nigra, a hybrid that blooms a week or 10 days later than the pink. Outside petals are a deep claret color. It blooms later and frequently misses the freezing weather that nips the earlier pink magnolia. She has three varieties in all.

In Stoutsville many residents have beautiful specimens of this later magnolia. I try to pay a visit to this little city each spring when I think I'll find the magnolias in bloom.

Kenny Azbell, Route 4, is on vacation this week. On a tramp through the hills he only found five mushrooms. This was last Thursday. Kenny is a famous mushroom hunter. This was like going fishing to him and coming home without any fish.

All-America Tab Goes to 4 Vegetables

Four new vegetables merit superiority awards, the All-America Selections for 1965. They have proved better than any others of their kinds and for their purposes. Find a place for them in all good home gardens this first season of introduction.

Cabbage 'Savoy King' is a true hybrid originating in Japan. It is the most vigorous, productive and uniform of savoy cabbages, suitable for spring and summer or fall plantings. Savoy, with their crinkled dark green leaves, are most desirable for home gardens and fancy markets. Heads are semi-flat globes of medium size and Savoy King outperform them all.

Cantaloupe 'Samson' is also an F1 hybrid, sweeter than the usual varieties but not too sweet. Heavily netted and without sutures or ridges, the shape is slightly oval, averaging 6 by 7 inches. The flesh is deep orange, very thick, juicy, firm, with a small triangular seed cavity. Vine is very vigorous, dark green leaves provide good fruit cover and the crown set of fruits is unusually heavy. Samson is resistant to both powdery mildew and fusarium wilt. The extra quality makes it especially desirable for ripening in home gardens but here is a highly productive melon that also stands long distance shipping.

Cucumber 'Triumph' is well named, the F1 hybrid bred and designed for home garden and fresh market use where earliness and good disease resistance are essential. Exceptional for high quality fruit of uniform dark green color, 7 to 8 inches long, slightly tapering at stem end. Vigorous vine is compact for easy picking, set well with high percentage of No. 1 fruits. Triumph is resistant to mosaic and tolerant of downy mildew, handsome and of excellent quality for crisp white slicing. Try it for the most satisfactory of all.

SQUASH 'Chefini' is tops in dark green summer squash. Very compact bush type, it takes but little garden space and keeps producing as long as fruits are kept picked. Chefini is an F1 hybrid, vigorous sturdy bush, producing earlier than Zucchini. Fruit is uniformly cylindrical, slender, glossy dark green skin, tender white flesh of highest quality. Eat it young, raw or cooked, tender skin and all. A few plants will supply a family all season. Chefini and the 1964 award winning 'Greyzini', of light gray-green skin, are believed the most productive of all.

Plant a garden for luscious, fresh home ripened vegetables. There's a world of difference.

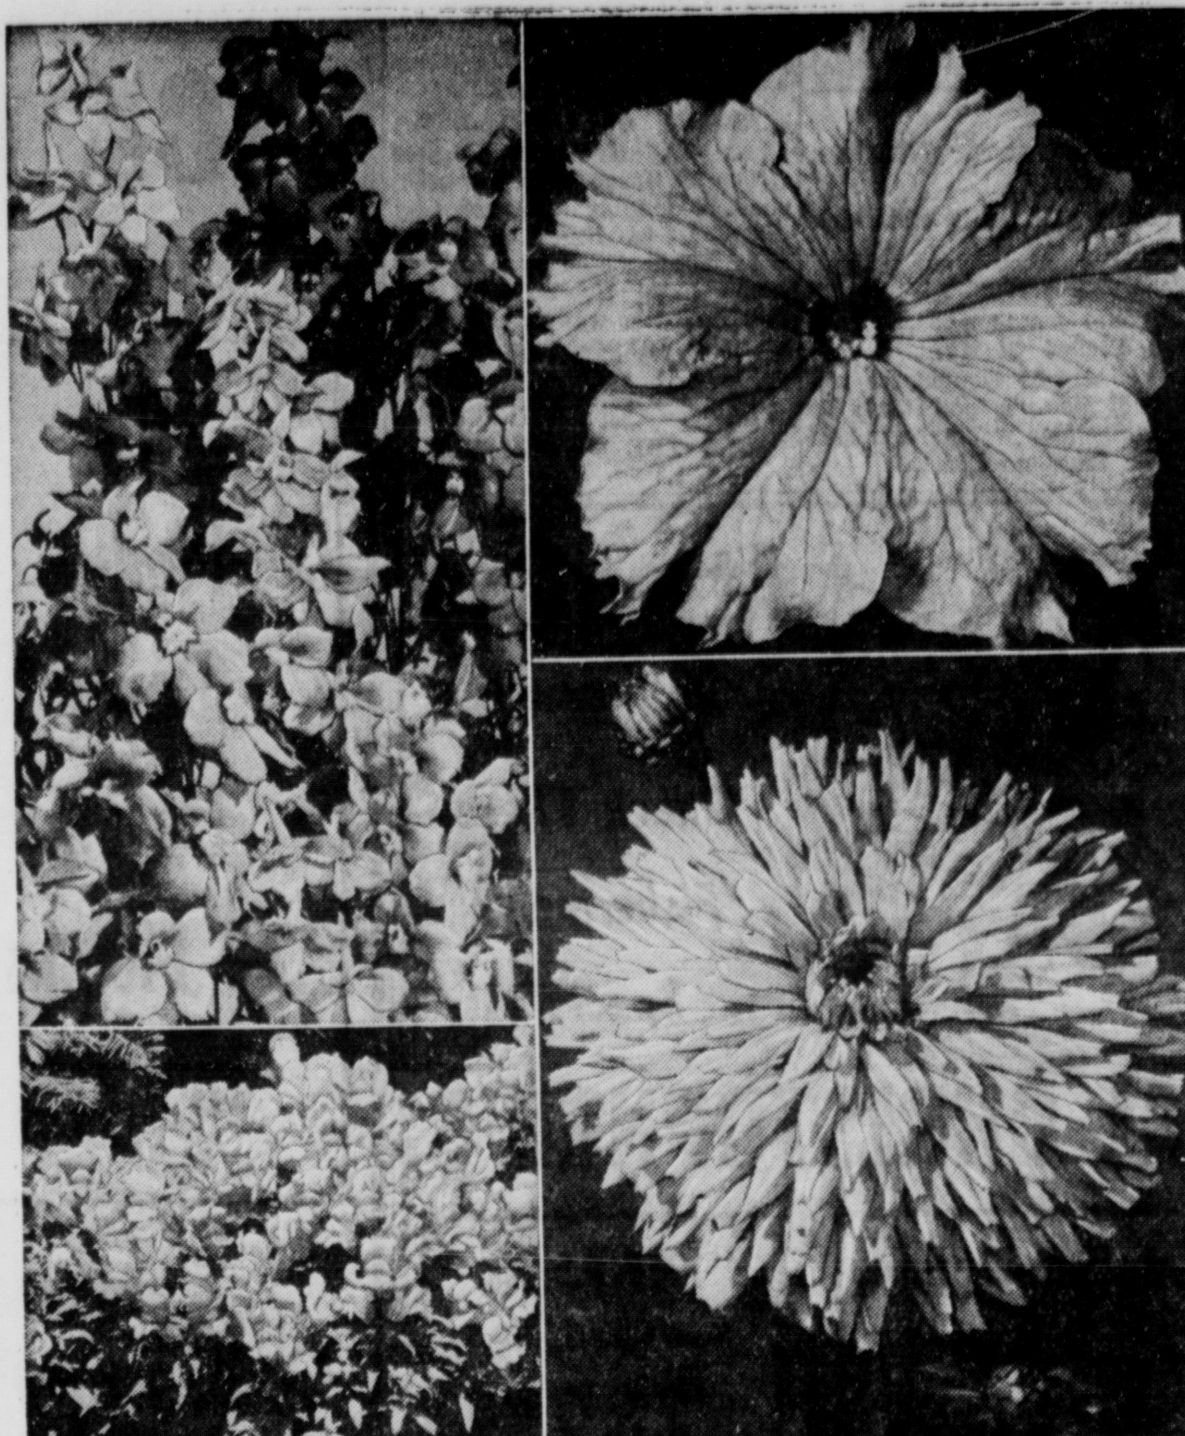

Dahlia Society Meeting May 2

A meeting is scheduled for the Central Ohio Dahlia Society at 1:30 p. m. May 2 at the Fairgrounds 4-H and Grange Building.

The society's membership is open to all dahlia fanciers. Officers are Charles Rawlins, president; Paul Congrove, vice president; and William Cook, secretary-treasurer.

The annual dahlia exchange and sale will take place at this meeting. Gardeners are welcome to attend. Many fine tubers will be swapped or sold.

Proceeds will go towards the annual show. Dates for this event will be decided on at the meeting.

Newest and Best Featured In All-America Selections

For the forty million gardeners in the United States and the enthusiastic gardeners of Canada and Mexico, All-America Selections bring the newest and best in flowers and vegetables from around the world.

New award winners for 1965 introduction are four flowers and four vegetables. A new type of delphinium, a large ruffled petunia, a very dwarf repeat blooming snapdragon and the largest cactus-flowered zinnia lead the flower parade. Their colors are shades of blue, appleblossom pink, rich rose and vivid yellow, respectively.

The best of their kinds in quality vegetables are a savoy cabbage, a mouth-watering cantaloupe, a crisp slicing cucumber and summer squash.

These bring a varied selection of new and better varieties. Some surely should interest all gardeners. They are the best of their kinds or colors and for their purposes to date.

There are 26 flower and 26 vegetable trial grounds in North America where proposed new varieties from breeders over the free world are thoroughly tested along with their nearest and most competitive comparisons.

All-America winners can be depended upon wherever these kinds of flowers or vegetables may be successfully grown. They make gardening more interesting and satisfying, the greatest hobby on earth.

Seeds should be available from any reliable garden seed firm. All seeds of these winners are grown by their original growers only, for the first three years from introduction.

This is for your protection, assurance of the finest strains produced from originators' foundation stocks. Be sure to order them by their variety names.

Delphinium 'Connecticut Yankees' is a new bushy type of perennial delphinium that starts blooming the first year from seeds. Informal spikes, for most desirable cut-flower arrangements, have as many as 15 to 25 or more 2 to 2½ inch flowers.

In the trials, first year plants produced 3 to 12 spikes but the second season showed up to 27 spikes blooming at a time on beautiful bushy plants of 2½ to 3 feet height. After blooming, plants may be cut back for a second crop of blooms. In shades of blue, the color range includes light, medium and dark blue, lilac, lavender and purple.

The profusion of bloom on wiry, graceful stems in shrub-like growth is grand for beds, borders and medium tall back-grounds. This achievement culminates over 25 years of delphinium breeding by the world famous photographer Edward Steichen of Connecticut.

PETUNIA 'Appleblossom' is the new grandiflora or large flowered hybrid of very light pink 3 to 3½ inch flowers are abundant throughout the entire season, probably the finest blooming grandiflora, with delightfully fringed and ruffled petals on compact 12-inch plants. It is ideal for beds and borders, pots, urns and boxes, grand for cut-flower arrangements. Disease resistant, it holds up and blooms freely in all kinds of weather.

Snapdragon 'Floral Carpet Rose' is an entirely new dwarf, free blooming snapdragon. Only

6 to 8 inches high, in rounded cushion-like growth, this F1-or true hybrid is everblooming in habit. Without cutting back, it produces three or more crops of bloom, with as many as 25 spikes of bloom at a time. Color is a rich rose, marvelous for edging, low beds and pot-size plants.

Zinnia 'Yellow Zenith', also an F1 hybrid, brings the largest and brightest color, rich yellow, to the giant cactus-flowered zinnias. Growing 2 to 2½ feet tall, the bushy plants produce many long stemmed double flowers 5 to 6 inches across and to 2 inches deep. The curled and pointed petals provide an airiness even with such large flowers, for long season garden show and for cutting. Zinnias give more and better flowers if directly seeded in their permanent location.

Yes Meg, There Are Green Flowers Now—Lots of Them!

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a belated letter from the garden editor to Meg Huskey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Huskey who formerly lived in Salter Creek Twp. The Huskeys now live in Luxembourg.

Dear Meg,

About seven years ago when you and your mother were walking through my garden you looked up and asked innocently, "Aren't there any green flowers, Mama?"

And your mother, who is a graduate horticulturist, and the garden editor said, "Not many." Then your mother thought of bells of Ireland and the garden editor thought of a green rose which she had seen but which was more of a freak than a rose.

However, browsing through the catalogs this year we found quite a number of green flowers. There are green glads, green chrysanthemums, a green iris, green zinnias, green lilies and green nicotiana. Imagine!

The green gladioli are green envy, green ice and green woodpecker. Green chrysanthemums are chartreuse and sunnyslope splendor.

The green iris is one called Green Dragon. It is described as apple green with purple black markings.

There is a new green zinnia, named envy. There are three green lilies, one is named Green Magic and another is known as Nepalese. The third is a novelty, pineapple lily that has a spike of chartreuse flowers crowned by a tuft of pointed leaves.

Tobacco plant or nicotiana comes in a green variety now known as lime sherbert. And if you want a novelty there is the green rose with perfect rose foliage and a funny little flower with thick pointed petals.

So, Meg, here is your belated

answer. Yes, there are green flowers, all sorts of them and there will be more in time to come as the hybridizers begin to realize that gardeners like green flowers.

Lot's of luck, Meg. And if you happen to be more interested in boys now than in green flowers we can only say we are sorry it took us seven years to write this letter to you.

Old Galleon's Gold Found Off Florida

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — A weekend treasure hunter says he has discovered a sunken Spanish galleon off the Florida west coast in shallow water.

Some coins, two solid gold statues, silver bars and silver-hilted swords were stored in a St. Petersburg bank after two state agents catalogued them Monday.

"The state has begun an investigation to check their authenticity," agent Philip Tibedeau said. He said he could not estimate the treasure's value.

John Charles Sykes, 31, made the discovery. He said what he had already salvaged was worth about $50,000 to $75,000 and that he had not begun to work the hulk in earnest.

"It's worth what somebody will pay you," said Sykes, an architectural engineer. "We have been offered $10,000 apiece for the status."

Sykes said he ran across the wreck by accident more than a year ago.

So many of the shrubs in Circleville have been given crew haircuts so to speak. Tough! Because Forsythia has a considerable force to its branches.

Miss Florence Bitzer has her miniature greenhouse in operation now. She has planted Appleblossom petunias and miniature snapdragons. Both of these are All-America selections. She lives at 137 Watt St. and gives away most of her seedlings, for alas she has no garden space.

A small purple leaved beech is growing in the Emmitt Barnhart yard between two tall elms. Mrs. Barnhart believes that the elms will not live too much longer and the beech will be taking their place in the future.

Everybody at the Circleville Daily Herald is happy and smiling over the nuptials of staffer Dick Davis and his bride Bobbie Galvin. But the garden editor's joy is shadowed with a tear. Unlike Mrs. Milton Davis (Dick's mother) who is gaining a daughter, I am losing a talented good natured and patient water pageant director. Our community will miss him next Labor Day.

Mrs. Harry Barthelmas was out digging dandelions in her nicely kept backyard last Thursday. She allows the dandelions to achieve considerable size and then she starts digging before they can scatter seeds. She lives at 224 N. Scioto St. We took her picture at work.

From the Barthelmas backyard one can see Miss Marie Hamilton's grand old magnolias. She has the magnolia Soul-angenna Nigra, a hybrid that blooms a week or 10 days later than the pink. Outside petals are a deep claret color. It blooms later and frequently misses the freezing weather that nips the earlier pink magnolia. She has three varieties in all.

In Stoutsville many residents have beautiful specimens of this later magnolia. I try to pay a visit to this little city each spring when I think I'll find the magnolias in bloom.

Kenny Azbell, Route 4, is on vacation this week. On a tramp through the hills he only found five mushrooms. This was last Thursday. Kenny is a famous mushroom hunter. This was like going fishing to him and coming home without any fish.

All-America Tab Goes to 4 Vegetables

Four new vegetables merit superiority awards, the All-America Selections for 1965. They have proved better than any others of their kinds and for their purposes. Find a place for them in all good home gardens this first season of introduction.

Cabbage 'Savoy King' is a true hybrid originating in Japan. It is the most vigorous, productive and uniform of savoy cabbages, suitable for spring and summer or fall plantings. Savoy, with their crinkled dark green leaves, are most desirable for home gardens and fancy markets, most attractive and flavorful. Heads are semi-flat globes of medium size and Savoy King outperforms them all.

Cantaloupe 'Samson' is also an F1 hybrid, sweeter than the usual varieties but not too sweet. Heavily netted and without sutures or ridges, the shape is slightly oval, averaging 6 by 7 inches. The flesh is deep orange, very thick, juicy, firm, with a small triangular seed cavity. Vine is very vigorous, dark green leaves provide good fruit cover and the crown set of fruits is unusually heavy. Samson is resistant to both powdery mildew and fusarium wilt. The extra quality makes it especially desirable for ripening in home gardens but here is a highly productive melon that also stands long distance shipping.

Cucumber 'Triumph' is well named, the F1 hybrid bred and designed for home garden and fresh market use where earliness and good disease resistance are essential. Exceptional for high quality fruit of uniform dark green color, 7 to 8 inches long, slightly tapering at stem end. Vigorous vine is compact for easy picking, set well with high percentage of No. 1 fruits. Triumph is resistant to mosaic and tolerant of downy mildew, handsome and of excellent quality for crisp white slicing. Try it for the most satisfactory of all.

SQUASH 'Chefini' is tops in dark green summer squash. Very compact bush type, it takes but little garden space and keeps producing as long as fruits are kept picked. Chefini is an F1 hybrid, vigorous sturdy bush, producing earlier than Zucchini. Fruit is uniformly cylindrical, slender, glossy dark green skin, tender white flesh of highest quality. Eat it young, raw or cooked, tender skin and all. A few plants will supply a family all season. Chefini and the 1964 award winning 'Greyzini', of light gray-green skin, are belived the most productive of all.

Plant a garden for luscious, fresh home ripened vegetables. There's a world of difference.

Newest and Best Featured In All-America Selections

For the forty million gardeners in the United States and the enthusiastic gardeners of Canada and Mexico, All-America Selections bring the newest and best in flowers and vegetables from around the world.

New award winners for 1965 introduction are four flowers and four vegetables. A new type of delphinium, a large ruffled petunia, a very dwarf repeat blooming snapdragon and the largest cactus-flowered zinnia lead the flower parade. Their colors are shades of blue, appleblossom pink, rich rose and vivid yellow, respectively.

The best of their kinds in quality vegetables are a savoy cabbage, a mouth-watering cantaloupe, a crisp slicing cucumber and summer squash.

These bring a varied selection of new and better varieties. Some surely should interest all gardeners. They are the best of their kinds or colors and for their purposes to date.

There are 26 flower and 26 vegetable trial grounds in North America where proposed new varieties from breeders over the free world are thoroughly tested along with their nearest and most competitive comparisons.

All-America winners can be depended upon wherever these kinds of flowers or vegetables may be successfully grown. They make gardening more interesting and satisfying, the greatest hobby on earth.

Seeds should be available from any reliable garden seed firm. All seeds of these winners are grown by their original growers only, for the first three years from introduction. This is for your protection, assurance of the finest strains produced from originators' foundation stocks. Be sure to order them by their variety names.

Delphinium 'Connecticut Yankees' is a new bushy type of perennial delphinium that starts blooming the first year from seeds. Informal spikes, for most desirable cut-flower arrangements, have as many as 15 to 25 or more 2 to 2½ inch flowers.

In the trials, first year plants produced 3 to 12 spikes but the second season showed up to 27 spikes blooming at a time on beautiful bushy plants of 2½ to 3 feet height. After blooming, plants may be cut back for a second crop of blooms. In shades of blue, the color range includes light, medium and dark blue, lilac, lavender and purple.

The profusion of bloom on wiry, graceful stems in shrub-like growth is grand for beds, borders and medium tall backgrounds. This achievement culminates over 25 years of delphinium breeding by the world famous photographer Edward Steichen of Connecticut.

PETUNIA 'Appleblossom' is the new grandiflora or large flowered hybrid of very light pink 3 to 3½ inch flowers are abundant throughout the entire season, probably the finest blooming grandiflora, with delightfully fringed and ruffled petals on compact 12-inch plants. It is ideal for beds and borders, pots, urns and boxes, grand for cut-flower arrangements. Disease resistant, it holds up and blooms freely in all kinds of weather.

Snapdragon 'Floral Carpet Rose' is an entirely new dwarf, free blooming snapdragon. Only

6 to 8 inches high, in rounded cushion-like growth, this F1-or true hybrid is everblooming in habit. Without cutting back, it produces three or more crops of bloom, with as many as 25 spikes of bloom at a time. Color is a rich rose, marvelous for edging, low beds and pot-size plants.

Zinnia 'Yellow Zenith', also an F1 hybrid, brings the largest and brightest color, rich yellow, to the giant cactus-flowered zinnias. Growing 2 to 2½ feet tall, the bushy plants produce many long stemmed double flowers 5 to 6 inches across and to 2 inches deep. The curled and pointed petals provide an airiness even with such large flowers, for long season garden show and for cutting. Zinnias give more and better flowers if directly seeded in their permanent location.

Yes Meg, There Are Green Flowers Now—Lots of Them!

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a belated letter from the garden editor to Meg Huskey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Huskey who formerly lived in Salt Creek Twp. The Huskeys now live in Luxembourg.

Dear Meg,

About seven years ago when you and your mother were walking through my garden you looked up and asked innocently, "Aren't there any green flowers, Mama?"

And your mother, who is a graduate horticulturist, and the garden editor said, "Not many." Then your mother thought of bells of Ireland and the garden editor thought of a green rose which she had seen but which was more of a freak than a rose.

However, browsing through the catalogs this year we found quite a number of green flowers. There are green gladioli, green chrysanthemums, a green iris, green zinnias, green lilies and green nicotiana. Imagine! The green gladioli are green envy, green ice and green woodpecker. Green chrysanthemums are chartreuse and sunnyslope splendor.

The green iris is one called Green Dragon. It is described as apple green with purple black markings.

There is a new green zinnia, named envy. There are three green lilies, one is named Green Magic and another is known as Nepalese. The third is a novelty, pineapple lily that has a spike of chartreuse flowers crowned by a tuft of pointed leaves.

Tobacco plant or nicotiana comes in a green variety now known as lime sherbert. And if you want a novelty there is the green rose with perfect rose foliage and a funny little flower with thick pointed petals.

So, Meg, here is your belated

answer. Yes, there are green flowers, all sorts of them and there will be more in time to come as the hybridizers begin to realize that gardeners like green flowers.

Lots of luck, Meg. And if you happen to be more interested in boys now than in green flowers we can only say we are sorry it took us seven years to write this letter to you.

Old Galleon's Gold Found Off Florida

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — A weekend treasure hunter says he has discovered a sunken Spanish galleon off the Florida west coast in shallow water.

Some coins, two solid gold statues, silver bars and silver-hilted swords were stored in a St. Petersburg bank after two state agents catalogued them Monday.

"The state has begun an investigation to check their authenticity," agent Philip Tibedeau said. He said he could not estimate the treasure's value.

John Charles Sykes, 31, made the discovery. He said what he had already salvaged was worth about $50,000 to $75,000 and that he had not begun to work the haul in earnest.

"It's worth what somebody will pay you," said Sykes, an architectural engineer. "We have been offered $10,000 apiece for the status."

Sykes said he ran across the wreck by accident more than a year ago.

NEW JOB — Norma Di Gioia (Mrs. Tony Di Gioia) heads the sales department at their new garden store on Route 23. Mrs. Di Gioia has been a bookkeeper, heretofore, and she loves talking with customers and helping them with their garden needs. Here she shows some of her small delphinium plants. As the season grows warmer the Di Gioias will have a variety of annuals, perennials and vegetable plants.

New Nursery, Garden Center Is Established in Pickaway

There's a new firm in Pickaway County. It is the Scioto Valley Nursery and Garden Center on Route 23 just north of South Bloomfield.

Tony and Norma Di Gioia own and operate the new garden center. They plan to have everything a nursery store should have. This will include evergreens, shade and ornamental trees and shrubs. There will be a variety of perennials and many different annuals. Yes, roses too!

The Di Gioias pronounced (De Joya) have been affiliated with a Columbus nursery which Tony's relatives own. The new store is Tony and Norma's venture on their own. And they like it.

Norma Di Gioia has been a bookkeeper which she says is not fun like meeting and waiting on customers. This is her job now and she gets a real bang out of it.

THE GARDEN center has fertilizers and spray materials and peat moss.

All plants, including trees, shrubs, roses and perennials as well as vegetables and annuals, are all grown locally and they will not suffer climatic shock.

According to Mrs. Di Gioia, a person could say that everything is grown within 15 miles of their store.

The week before we visited the Di Gioia garden center there were pansies, geraniums, delphiniums and cabbages for sale. As the season progresses other plants will appear at the sales center.

Tony Di Gioia addressed an Ashville garden club recently. He knows a lot about gardening and landscaping.

He thoroughly enjoyed himself at the garden club. Norma says the ladies told her they thoroughly enjoyed Tony.

Magnolias Best Following Easter

The magnolia Soulangiana is the early pink blooming magnolia that does superbly well in Pickaway County gardens. About the third week in April it was stealing the show.

This magnificent shrub, often a tree, is a hybrid and one of the magnolias that can be counted on to thrive in a non-acid soil. Planting time is early spring.

Once in every three years it manages to bloom without a severe frostbite. But because it does blossom early it is a common occurrence to have the flowers badly nipped by freezing weather, thereby ruining their beauty.

This year the magnolias bloomed and escaped the frost. The Palm Sunday winds blew the open blossoms to pieces, but left the buds unharmed in this locality. So the week after Easter magnolias were very beautiful.

MAGNOLIA Soulangiana lives to a ripe old age in Pickaway County. And it grows in beauty each year.

Magnolias bloom along with Forsythia, daffodils, hyacinths early tulips and grape hyacinths. It's beauty is challenged only by the Japanese weeping cherry which is in bloom the same time. Weeping cherries are rare in this locality.

Magnolia Soulangiana may be propagated by layering lower branches into soil compost beneath the tree. Branches should be slit and pegged down in spring.

They are to be left for two years before being disturbed.

TV Concert Unit Rated Superior

Teays Valley's 83-member Concert Band, under the direction of Miss Mary Jo Gaskalla, received a superior rating for the third straight year at the State Band contest held Saturday in Newark.

The band performed at 8 a. m. for judges R. L. Schilling, Harold LeFavor and Herbert Jones. The selections were "Coat of Arms March," "Suite in F for Band" (required) and "Elsa's Processional to the Cathedral."

Comments from the judges, directed to the Teays Valley musicians and Miss Gaskalla, included: "A very spirited musical performance, nice attention to dynamic contrasts, very nice job; a fine well-balanced band, fine tone, fine direction; this band has everything, good interpretation, good style, fine musicianship; playing is beautiful, interpretation built with understanding, fine tone and climax, fine control; very little weakness in this band."

A fourth judge who listened to the band sightread immediately following the prepared concert, gave the band a straight "A" grade and made these comments: "This group plays musically because the conductor is a musician. You have a very fine band. I can offer no suggestions for improvement except to keep working hard. The group has excellent training."

A bronze plaque was awarded the band. It reads: Ohio Music Education State Competition Finals — Superior — Teays Valley High School Concert Band, 1965.

The community will have an opportunity to hear the musicians at the annual spring concert on May 14. It will be the final performance of the school year.

Eyes Are Tested At Darby School

Darby School students in grades two through six had their eyes tested this month.

The testing program was conducted by Mrs. Marian Bliss, Mrs. Jean Furniss and Mrs. Helen Hawker, with the assistance of Mrs. Pickens of the County Health Department. As a result, several students have been consulted with their own doctors and have been given glasses.

The program was rated most worthwhile and a follow-up to check effectiveness is planned.

"We Service What We Sell . . . Plus All Other Brands"

We started with a simple plan.

It all began with the notion that a wagon should hold a lot, and no notion about how it should look.

So when we sat down to design the VW Station Wagon we started by drawing a big box with 170 cubic feet of space.

(Roughly two times the room of an ordinary station wagon.)

This gave us room to seat 9 people comfortably and 13 pieces of luggage. (13 bags more than you could ever fit into most wagons that hold 9 people.)

Once we got the people in we couldn't just let them sit there in a dark box.

So we cut 21 windows to let the light in, a big hole in back to put the luggage in, and 4 doors to let the people out.

To make the thing go we put the air-cooled Volkswagen engine in back.

And what we ended up with is what you see in the picture.

A sensible wagon that holds a lot, parks easily, and doesn't drink much gas.

What could be simpler than that?

TV Concert Unit Rated Superior

Teays Valley's 83-member Concert Band, under the direction of Miss Mary Jo Gaskalla, received a superior rating for the third straight year at the State Band contest held Saturday in Newark.

The band performed at 8 a. m. for judges R. L. Schilling, Harold LeFavor and Herbert Jones. The selections were "Coat of Arms March," "Suite in F for Band" (required) and "Elsa's Processional to the Cathedral."

Comments from the judges, directed to the Teays Valley musicians and Miss Gaskalla, included: "A very spirited musical performance, nice attention to dynamic contrasts, very nice job; a fine well-balanced band, fine tone, fine direction; this band has everything, good interpretation, good style, fine musicianship; playing is beautiful, interpretation built with understanding, fine tone and climax, fine control; very little weakness in this band."

A fourth judge who listened to the band sightread immediately following the prepared concert, gave the band a straight "A" grade and made these comments: "This group plays musically because the conductor is a musician. You have a very fine band. I can offer no suggestions for improvement except to keep working hard. The group has excellent training."

A bronze plaque was awarded the band.

ed the band. It reads: Ohio Music Education State Competition Finals — Superior — Teays Valley High School Concert Band, 1965.

The community will have an opportunity to hear the musicians at the annual spring concert on May 14. It will be the final performance of the school year.

"We Service What We Sell . . . Plus All Other Brands"

We started with a simple plan.

It all began with the notion that a wagon should hold a lot, and no notion about how it should look.

So when we sat down to design the VW Station Wagon we started by drawing a big box with 170 cubic feet of space.

(Roughly two times the room of an ordinary station wagon.)

This gave us room to seat 9 people comfortably and 13 pieces of luggage. (13 bags more than you could ever fit into most wagons that hold 9 people.)

Once we got the people in we couldn't just let them sit there in a dark box.

So we cut 21 windows to let the light in, a big hole in back to put the luggage in, and 4 doors to let the people out.

To make the thing go we put the air-cooled Volkswagen engine in back. And what we ended up with is what you see in the picture.

A sensible wagon that holds a lot, parks easily, and doesn't drink much gas.

What could be simpler than that?

'Queens' Of Palm Beach Ruled by Mite-Size Girl

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — In huge houses obscured by well-mannered landscaping and bougainvillea-covered walls here reside the reigning queens of international society.

In a tiny pink house with pink porcelain cat, a pink lily pond and other very pink, very feminine frou-frou live the mite-sized, iron-willed French girl who rules over these women with almost totalitarian authority.

She is Colette, their hairdresser.

You would think she was the only hairdresser in miles, the way influential friends must get you in, and how you must mind your manners if you expect to be permitted to return.

Once it is reported the Duchess of Windsor begged Colette to pardon a friend banned from the pink-curtained stalls with their glass-domed hairdryers.

"Ne-vaire!" said the pretty refugee with a charming accent. Since the duchess, along with former Palm Beach queen Dolly O'Brien, helped establish her here 18 winters ago, it pained Colette deeply to refuse.

"But it was a matter of principle and she understood."

The famous Kennedy women, Marjorie Merriweather Post, actress Dina Merrill, Jane Wrightman — in fact, almost all the women on the international best-dressed lists make their ways to the tiny pink house.

Inevitably hair stylists attracting big name clientele blossom into big salons with big publicity campaigns and big prices. Colette shuns all this because, "I don't want just anybody walking in off the street." And she fears growing big and impersonal.

In other words, she is a happy woman the way she is — 40-ish and beautiful with dimples, mischievous black eyes, lustrous black hair, and single. "I have always enjoyed being in love but I have never thought I would enjoy being married," she says.

The third time a customer is a little tardy for her appointment she must buy champagne for the house. Sometimes the treat is on Colette. In her kitchen upstairs with the gaily painted pots and pans given her by Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her sister, Lee Radziwill, the French miss stirs up some delectable cuisine to go with the bubblewater.

Father of 3 Is Held as Bank Robber

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—Less than three hours after a gunman robbed a bank in the Plaza Shopping Center of $5,000, an Ashland County man was arrested and charged with the holdup.

Charged with the robbery Wednesday at the Highland Park branch of the Commercial Banking & Trust Co. was Robert Cecil Porter, 29, of Polk.

Porter, father of three, was arrested at his farm home by Wooster police, Ashland County sheriff's deputies, highway patrolmen and FBI agents.

Police said some of the money was recovered, but declined to say how much.

A man entered the bank and pointed a pistol at a manager, Dale Burkhardt, ordering him to fill a paper bag with money. The manager told two tellers, Miss Romona Kreider and Mrs. Carolyn Nester, to remain in their work areas. Then he filled the bag.

The holdup man escaped in a car. Someone got the license number and Wooster Police Sgt. Fred Kaufman traced it.

Is your water half-soft, half-hard?

Many families on the tank-exchange plan really have half-soft, half-hard water.

This may be true in your home.

Many tank exchange water softeners are connected only to hot water outlets. So, while the hot water tap delivers the benefits of soft water, the cold taps are completely hard.

This means stains under the cold water taps, stains in the tubs and toilets. It means that when you take a bath, you are bathing in half-soft, half-hard water.

Worst of all, it means that when you and your daughters shampoo, your hair is stringy, dull and hard to manage.

Wouldn't you rather have a complete soft water system in both hot and cold taps for about the same as you now pay for tank-exchange?

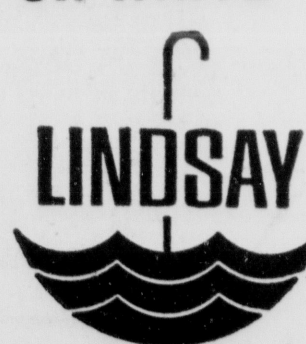

The remarkable new Lindsay water softener is an automatic, completely modern unit that gives you all the soft water you want, out of both taps. Fully automatic means you never turn a valve, you never change a tank, and there's never a fuss or muss. Furthermore, the Lindsay is as beautiful as any appliance in your home!

The cost? You can usually rent or buy a Lindsay water softener for less than old-fashioned tank-exchange rental costs.

Please, make us prove this statement. Write, or phone. Take the first easy step toward getting rid of half-hard water in your home.

'Queens' Of Palm Beach Ruled by Mite-Size Girl

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — In huge houses obscured by well-mannered landscaping and bougainvillea-covered walls here reside the reigning queens of international society.

In a tiny pink house with pink porcelain cat, a pink lily pond and other very pink, very feminine frou-frou live the mite-sized, iron-willed French girl who rules over these women with almost totalitarian authority.

She is Colette, their hairdresser.

You would think she was the only hairdresser in miles, the way influential friends must get you in, and how you must mind your manners if you expect to be permitted to return.

Once it is reported the Duchess of Windsor begged Colette to pardon a friend banned from the pink-curtained stalls with their glass-domed hairdryers.

"Ne-vaire!" said the pretty refugee with a charming accent. Since the duchess, along with

Father of 3 Is Held as Bank Robber

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—Less than three hours after a gunman robbed a bank in the Plaza Shopping Center of $5,010, an Ashland County man was arrested and charged with the holdup.

Charged with the robbery Wednesday at the Highland Park branch of the Commercial Banking & Trust Co. was Robert Cecil Porter, 29, of Polk.

Porter, father of three, was arrested at his farm home by Wooster police, Ashland County sheriff's deputies, highway patrolmen and FBI agents.

Police said some of the money was recovered, but declined to say how much.

A man entered the bank and pointed a pistol at Manager Dale Burkhardt, ordering him to fill a paper bag with money. The manager told two tellers, Miss Romona Kreider and Mrs. Carolyn Nester, to remain in their work areas. Then he filled the bag.

The holdup man escaped in a car. Someone got the license number and Wooster Police Sgt. Fred Kaufman traced it.

former Palm Beach queen Dolly O'Brien, helped establish her here 18 winters ago, it pained Colette deeply to refuse.

"But it was a matter of principle and she understood."

The famous Kennedy women, Marjorie Merriwether Post, actress Dina Merrill, Jane Wrightman — in fact, almost all the women on the international best-dressed lists make their ways to the tiny pink house.

Inevitably hair stylists attracting big name clientele blossom into big salons with big publicity campaigns and big prices. Colette shuns all this because, "I don't want just anybody walking in off the street." And she fears growing big and impersonal.

In other words, she is a happy woman the way she is — 40-ish and beautiful with dimples, mischievous black eyes, lustrous black hair, and single. "I have always enjoyed being in love but I have never thought I would enjoy being married," she says.

The third time a customer is a little tardy for her appointment she must buy champagne for the house. Sometimes the treat is on Colette. In her kitchen upstairs with the gaily painted pots and pans given her by Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her sister, Lee Radziwill, the French miss stirs up some delectable cuisine to go with the bubblewater.

OSU Student Protest Is Nearing End

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A band of weary Ohio State University students sat outside the office of the school president today after an all-night protest of a rue limiting campus speakers.

About 150 students spent the night inside the university's administration building in a "sit-in, sleep-in" protest of the rule used to bar controversial speakers from campus talks.

The current protest stemmed from university action to prevent a scheduled talk by a Marxist speaker.

Students who left the protest to abide by university hours for women returned to the demonstration when the building reopened this morning. The protest was scheduled to end at noon.

"It wouldn't be practical to stay any longer," said Dennis Knepley, one of the leaders.

University President Novice G. Fawcett met with some student leaders Wednesday in an attempt to head off the sit-in. He asked them to be patient until the board of trustees meets in July to consider the speakers rule.

"I believe we can write a better rule," Fawcett said.

Is your water half-soft, half-hard?

Many families on the tank-exchange plan really have half-soft, half-hard water. This may be true in your home. Many tank exchange water softeners are connected only to hot water outlets. So, while the hot water tap delivers the benefits of soft water, the cold taps are completely hard.

This means stains under the cold water taps, stains in the tubs and toilets. It means that when you take a bath, you are bathing in half-soft, half-hard water. Worst of all, it means that when you and your daughters shampoo, your hair is stringy, dull and hard to manage.

Wouldn't you rather have a complete soft water system in both hot and cold taps for about the same as you now pay for tank-exchange?

The remarkable new Lindsay water softener is an automatic, completely modern unit that gives you all the soft water you want, out of both taps. Fully automatic means you never turn a valve, you never change a tank, and there's never a fuss or muss. Furthermore, the Lindsay is as beautiful as any appliance in your home!

The cost? You can usually rent or buy a Lindsay water softener for less than old-fashioned tank-exchange rental costs.

Please, make us prove this statement. Write, or phone. Take the first easy step toward getting rid of half-hard water in your home.

Redlegs Win 14-Inning Controversy

CINCINNATI (AP) — The 3,561 fans who came to see the Cincinnati Reds - Chicago Cubs game Wednesday night got to see a lot of baseball—14 innings of it, including 7 2-3 innings of no hit pitching by Joey Jay and a winning run that scored on a balk.

The game that put the Reds into first place in the National League ended when Tommy Harper tried to steal home with the bases loaded in the 14th inning and home plate umpire Doug Harvey called a balk on veteran pitcher Ernie Broglio. The final score was 3-2.

"I didn't even stretch," Broglio said disgustedly after the game, and his head coach, who had ordered him to fill the bases by walking Frank Robinson, agreed.

"No one shouted balk," coach Ed Kennedy declared. "This group, the umpires—they don't know the rule."

Manager Dick Sisler of the Red said, "It was a good call." Sisler also was full of praise for young Harper, who hit safely four times during the long game before drawing a base on balls with two out in the 14th.

"Harper ran on his own," Sisler said. "He uses excellent judgment on the bases and is one of the league's best base runners. It was one of those surprises."

Pro Golfers Taking Aim At Nicklaus

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The name of the game today is Jack Nicklaus, or so it seemed as 26 professional golfers fired away in the first round of the $75,000 Tournament of Champions.

The setting was the Desert Inn Country Club. The course, one of the better of the resort challenge according to the pros, measures 7,209 yards.

Par is 36-36-72, and winds of 15 to 25 miles an hour and temperatures in the upper 80s were forecast.

The 25-year-old Nicklaus was a firm 5-2 favorite to retain his 1,000 batting average in the tournament. He has played it twice, won twice and is seeking his third in as many years.

The 72-hole event could hardly be considered a walk-over, however.

There is Arnold Palmer, the 1962 winner here, who has not won a tournament since the Oklahoma City Open May 18 last year.

There is Bill Casper, Jr., who three times has finished second, and two former winners, Sam Snead, 1961, and Mike Souchak, 1959.

There are also, as Nicklaus himself pointed out, such fellows as Tony Lema and Doug Sanders.

The Los Angeles Dodgers scored two runs or less for pitcher Don Drysdale in 10 of his 16 setbacks last season.

Art Stratton of Buffalo won the American Hockey League scoring title with 109 points. He led in assists with 84 and scored 24 goals.

Circleville Drops 7-0 SCO Tilt At Hillsboro

By STEVE JONES

The Circleville High School baseball team was handed its second loss in South Central Ohio League play last night at Hillsboro by a 7-0 score.

The Tigers are now 2-2 in the league, owning wins over Greenfield and Wilmington. Miami Trace also defeated the locals.

The winning Indians blasted six hits, including a two-run homer by Ed Robbins, the winning hurler.

Five Tiger errors also contributed to the winning total. Only four of the Hillsboro runs were earned.

NICK NANCE started for the Tiger nine. He fanned three, walked two and allowed five hits before he was relieved by Danny Gibbs in the fifth inning.

Gibbs, after completing the inning, gave way to Jeff Steele who completed the game. Steele, a freshman, walked one and allowed one hit.

Robbins went the route for Hillsboro. In posting the shut-out, the Indian fireballer fanned 15 Tiger batters, was touched for a pair of bingles, one by Chet Iery and the other by Nance, and issued a lone walk.

In addition to his stellar mound performance, the Indian hurler paced the hitting with a homerun and a single.

Jim Redkey tagged a double and a single and Ballentine also had a double for the winners.

Circleville coach Don Neff noted that all teams in the South Central Ohio League have lost at least one game this year.

NEFF termed Robbins "a pitcher with real big league prospects."

"His fast ball had a hop on it," the Tiger coach commented. "Although he could throw a curve, he just fired the ball past us most of the game."

Viking Golfers Defeat Falcons

Ron Leatherwood Medalist with 39

Teays Valley defeated visiting Franklin Heights, 6-2, in a nine-hole golf match yesterday at the Upper Lansdowne links.

Ron Leatherwood, Viking sophomore, was the individual medalist in the match with a 39. He picked up two points.

Mike Binion and Mark McMellon also tallied a pair of points for the winners.

The next scheduled match for Teays Valley is Saturday at the Pickaway Country Club with Circleville.

Braves Down A-C Nine In 7-5 Tilt

Capitalizing on Amanda Clearcreek miscues yesterday, Logan Elm's baseball team defeated the visiting Aces, 7-5.

The Braves had only two hits, a single by Tom Smith and a double by Jeff Lutz. The winners were able to take good advantage of five Amanda errors and several wild pitches.

Mike Spangler, the Braves' senior southpaw, was the winning pitcher. He went the route, scattering 10 hits, fanning eight and walking two.

The losing pitcher was Buddy Strehle. He walked six, fanned 10 and allowed two hits.

LOGAN ELM jumped to an early lead, scoring three runs in the first inning. They came back with one each in the second and third frames and clinched the win with two in the fifth.

The Aces first crossed the plate in the initial inning, but were then held scoreless until the sixth frame when they tallied a pair of runs. They added two more in the final canto.

The next game for Logan Elm comes tomorrow when they host Canal Winchester in Central District tournament play. The game is to begin at 4 p. m.

Ring's Awards Go to Pair

NEW YORK (AP) — Lightweight champion Ismael Laguna of Panama and flyweight champion Salvatore Burrini of Italy, two recently crowned boxing rulers, were named co-holders of the Ring's Fighter of the Month Award for April.

Laguna dethroned Carlos Ortiz recently in Panama and Burrini ousted Pone Kingpetch of Thailand in a Rome bout last Saturday.

Only two changes were made in the heavyweight rankings in which Ring recognizes Cassius Clay as the champion and lists Ernie Terrell, the World Boxing Association's ruler, as No. 3 contender behind Sonny Liston and Floyd Patterson, two former champions.
